ALLIES ARE TO INVADE GERMANY

U. S. NEGOTIATING AN ARMISTICE BETWEEN PANAMA - COSTA RICA

By Associated Press.

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA, March 7.—An armistice between Panama and Costa Rica and final settlement of the boundaries question is being negotiated through mediation of the United States government, it was announced here today.

WASHINGTON, March 7. — Withdrawal of the Costa Rican forces from the disputed territory in Panama has begun, the state department was advised today officially.

BALBOA, PANAMA, March 7.—The republic of Panama will accept under protest mediation of the United States in the dispute with Costa Rica, President Porras declared today.

Porras made the announcement following receipt of an ultimatum from Secretary of State Hughes demanding cessation of hostilities.

Porras declared Panama will continue arming in preparation for compelling the Costa Ricans to evacuate Almirante if those forces are not withdrawn.

In an interview with the United Press, President Porras said:

"I have received Secretary Hughes' note which has given me a very painful impression, because he advises to withdraw our troops from the Coto territory which has always been under our jurisdiction and which we have recovered after it had been invaded three times by Costa Ricans.

"The award of that territory by Chief Justice White is entirely unacceptable to Panama. We recognize that Chief Justice White is a high and honorable authority, but President Loubet of France was also a very high authority, the highest authority of France, when he pronounced his award.

Requested Mediation.

"Although Costa Rica accepted Loubet's award she asked the mediation of the United States, alleging obscurity in the ward and the necessity of interpreting it, so Chief Justice White was appointed to fix the boundary line according to the best interpretation of Loubet's award, and the chief justice did not limit himself to the powers granted him, but decided freely as if the arbitration had no limitation of powers. We have had and now have reason not to accept the White award and to evacuate the territory which Panama has possessed and allow Costa Rica to occupy it.

"This does not mean," he said, "that Panama will not accept mediation. We will accept, but we protest the basis of the White award."

Panama, he said, should be permitted to retain Coto and the Costa Ricans compelled to withdraw to the north bank of the Sixaola river pending adjudication.

The president said he will reply to Hughes' note, submitting the correspondence to the national assembly tomorrow and being guided by its decision.

Messages from Bocal Del Toro today said that Costa Ricans were not attempting to take that city, but were passing on to Almirate.

Americans have interests in that region. The Costa Rican forces were estimated at 1,800 men.

U. S. NOTE CAUSES A PAINFUL IMPRESSION

PANAMA, March 7.—Receipt of the identical note sent to Costa Rica and Panama by Charles E. Hughes, American secretary of state, asking that hostilities between the two countries cease, produced a "painful impression," said President Porras of the Republic of Panama last evening.

"This impression was caused," continued the president, "because he advised us to withdraw from Coto, which we have recovered from the Costa Ricans."

The president reiterated his recent statement that the arbitration award handed down in 1914 by Chief Justice White was "completely unacceptable" to Panama, adding:

"There is no reason for compelling Panama to accept it, but we will be pleased to secure another opportunity to discuss our rights."

It is understood the United States cruiser Sacramento with an engle boat has arrived at Bocas Del Toro.

Dispatches declaring that Panama had requested intervention by the League of Nations have not been confirmed here, because the Panama government has been keeping secret its peace moves.

SECRETARY HUGHES AND PRESIDENT HARDING CONFER

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Secretary Hughes of the state department went into conference today with President Harding at the white house. It was understood that hostilities between Panama and Costa Rica was the principal subject discussed. He was closeted with the executive for some time.

FUNERAL OF CLARK IS HELD LATE TODAY AT BOWLING GREEN

BOWLING GREEN, MO., March 7.—Champ Clark's body was brought to Bowling Green shortly before noon and will be buried this afternoon among budding lilac bushes in the Little Mound cemetery here. The legislator would have been 71 years old today.

It was planned to inter the body at 2:00 o'clock, but so great were the crowds which clamored for a last view of the stalwart parliamentarian that it may be later when the clay of legislators home town shall cover his remains.

The catafalaque was placed in the Pike county court house and thousands of persons, many with tear-dimmed eyes, streamed through and paid their final respects.

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS VIEW BODY AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, MO., March 7.—The body of Champ Clark today was to be taken to the final lap of the homeward journey to Bowling Green for burial this afternoon. The special train carrying the funeral party was scheduled to leave here at 7:00 a. m., arriving in Bowling Green shortly before noon.

Many friends of the former speaker planed to accompany his body from St. Louis, the state was to be officially represented by Governor Hyde, and committees from other branches of the Missouri legislature, which adjourned over the day in respect to the memory of the statesman.

Thousands of persons viewed the body as it lay in state in the city hall from late yesterday until 11:00 o'clock last night.

At that hour, which had been designated for the return to the train, spectators still were filing by the casket.

BOWLING GREEN PAYS TRIBUTE TO CLARK

BOWLING GREEN, MO., March 7.—Champ Clark's home folks waited here today to receive his body and accord a final tribute to their friend.

All business was suspended; schools were closed and throughout the town flags were at half mast and buildings draped in mourning.

Simplicity marked the funeral arrangements. The train bearing the former speaker's body was expected to arrive from St. Louis shortly before noon. Accompanied by a guard of honor from the local post of the American legion, the body was to be taken to the Pike county court house to lie in state until 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. No church ceremony was planned. It was intended instead, to proceed directly from the court house to the Bowling Green Mound cemetery. The burial service of the Episcopalian church was to be read at the grave by Rev. Robert S. Boyd of aKnsas City, a nephew of Mrs. Clark.

Then Champ Clark was to be laid to rest.

BRECKENRIDGE HAS A DISASTROUS FIRE; 14 STORES BURNED

BRECKENRIDGE, TEXAS, March 7.—Another disastrous fire, the second serious conflagration in the last two weeks, did $100,000 damage in the business district here today. Fourteen business houses in south Breckenridge were consumed in today's blaze, which started at 4:00 o'clock from an unexplained origin.

Dynamite was used today to check the flames because of the lack of proper water protection. The explosive was found effective in bringing under control a fire which did approximately $250,000 damage here two weeks ago.

Trotzky and Lenine Plan Flight; Anti-Bolsheviki Contingents Now Nearing the Soviet Headquarters

HELSINGFORS, March 7.—Great fires are sweeping through Petrograd, according to couriers reaching here from Russia today. The reflection of the flames is visible on the Finnish frontier.

Couriers confirmed reports that Commissioner Kalinin had been imprisoned and there were conflicting reports concerning the capture of Lenine Zinovieff, the leading soviet propaganda.

Latest reports said Zinovieff was confined in the Kronstadt jail with other leaders of the bolsheviki.

PARIS, March 7.—Leon Trotzky, minister of war, and Nicolai Lenine, bolshevik premier, are preparing for flight, says a Reval dispatch to the Matin.

Anti-bolshevik contingents are within 30 miles of their headquarters at Gatchina, southwest of Petrograd.

Bolshevik forces have been driven out of Oranienbaum, a town on the southern shore of the Gulf of Finland, 19 miles west of Petrograd, by naval units from Kronstadt, says a dispatch from Viborg. Warships have gone up the Neva river and landed soldiers in Petrograd, where a garrison split, part joining the revolutionary and the rest retreating toward Gatchina. Soviet leaders are terrified.

Anti bolshevik leaders Antonoff at the head of 50,000 well armed peasants is declared to be in control of the governments of Voronezh and Tambov, in southern Russia, and it is said that this fact makes it impossible to revictual the northern sections of the country.

UPRISING AGAINST SOVIET GOVERNMENT IS SPREADING

HELSINGFORS, FINLAND, March 7. All classes of citizens of Kronstadt, the great Russian naval base near Petrograd, have united in the uprising against the soviet government, says a dispatch to the Russian Union Agency here.

Organization of a revolutionary committee, which later became the provisional government, was carried out without participation of political parties and its members were separated almost exclusively from seamen and workmen having no political affiliations.

The provisional government has published a program, the agency announced, the essence of which is a demand for immediate convention of a constituent assembly and the restoration of freedom of trade between individuals.

RED TROOPS ARE FORCED TO RETIRE TO GATCHINA

VIBORG, FINLAND, March 7.—Red troops which started for Petrograd to suppress revolutionary forces have been forced to retire to Gatchina, 40 kilometers from Petrograd, according to dispatches received today.

The reports said many of the red soldiers deserted their comrades to join the mutinous sailors and the workers. Leon Trotzky, minister of war, was said to be concentrating forces at Gatchina preparatory to a drive on Petrograd.

Sailors from Kronstadt, forcing ice breakers into Oranienbaum, were said to have driven soviet officials from the city.

IMPORTANT GARRISON GOES OVER TO THE "WHITE" FORCES

PARIS, March 7.—Twenty-five bolshevik commissaries abandoned by their troops in the vicinity of Petrograd have fled into Esthonia, the French foreign office was advised today. The reports said several were arrested before reaching the border.

Foreign office advices said the Krasnaya Gorka garrison, one of the important centers near Petrograd, had gone over to the "white" forces.

Gregory Zinovoff and Commissioner Malinin were said to have been imprisoned with soviet officials captured in the first rush of mutinous soldiers at Kronstadt.

It was reported Boris Litvinoff, trade commissioner for the bolsheviki, made a sensational escape in a red battleship whose crew remained loyal. It was said to have taken with him all the bolshevik funds collected at Reval.

EXISTENCE OF A REVOLT IS RECOGNIZED BY SOVIET

LONDON, March 7.—A wireless message received from Moscow today says:

"The leaders of the Petrograd rising are Petrichenko, Yakovlenko and Savchenko, father of Serge Savchenkosi; Captain Vladimer Bartneff; Engineer Oreskin and a former clergyman, Putilin."

The foregoing dispatch showing the existence of a revolt in Petrograd comes from official soviet sources, the Moscow wireless services being conducted by the Russian soviet authorities.

APPEAL FOR ASSISTANCE FOR THE ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI

PARIS, March 7.—The "Russian parliamentary committee in Paris" today sent messages to President Harding and Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, soliciting help in the form of food and other necessaries for the anti-bolsheviki in Kronstadt and Petrograd. The messages were signed by M. Kedrine of the committee.

Merritt, of Pasadena, California, in 1918, on a charge of hording sugar. Solicitor General Frierson said he acted in accordance with the court's decision last Monday that the penalty sections of the Lever act were invalid.

The Merritt case is the first of scores which were en route to final court to be dropped.

HAGGARD, ARRESTED SUNDAY, BEGINS HIS FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

TO HAVE HABEAS CORPUS HEARING AT 4:30 MONDAY—CLAIMS NOTE WAS JOKE.

WARRANT CHARGING THEFT FILED AT BRECKENRIDGE

Oil Man Says He Left Car In Front Of Home And That He Went To Fort Worth.

Hearing on a writ of habeas corpus filed by H. H. Haggard Monday morning was postponed at 1:30 o'clock to 4:30 Monday evening and Judge P. A. Martin placed him under a $1,000 bond until that time.

Haggard was arrested and placed in the county jail Sunday evening on telegraphic information from the sheriff at Breckenridge. He was taken into custody upon the return of Sheriff Fred Smith from Eliasville where an unsuccessful search for the body was made following the finding of the note. The postponement of the hearing was given in order to give the state an opportunity of getting a copy of the warrant for his arrest.

In the county jail Monday morning, Haggard stated that the note found attached to his clothes was the joke of someone whom he was going to bring to justice and furthehrstated that the reported charge of pipe theft was false as he had never been interested in but one pipe deal which as yet had not been consummated.

Late Monday afternoon it was learned that the sheriff at Breckenridge had filed a copy of the warrant with the Western Union Telegraph company.

At the brief hearing on the writ at 1:30 Monday, counsel for Haggard stated that as far as could be learned no warrant was in the hands of the sheriff here. The state cotended that the warrant would be on hand if some little time was given to secure it. It was further stated at that time that the understanding was that the charge involved property to the amount of some $15,000.

"An arrest will be made in a few days. We have some very good clues as to the identity of the persons who played this hoax on me. [illegible] are some good men working on the case.

This was the statement made by H. H. Haggard Monday morning in his cell in the county jail. He was placed under arrest Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock by Sheriff Fred Smith and Deputy Dakan [illegible] telegraphic information from the sheriff from Breckenridge.

The message said that the sheriff from Stephens would come after him some [illegible] Monday, as he was wanted there in connection with a pipe theft that occurred last Friday evening near Eliasville.

Mr. Haggard stated [illegible] that he had never been in any [illegible] pipe deal except one and that one had not as yet been consummated. "A man is said to have escaped in a Dodge car when officers over there made the arrest last Friday evening and the sheriff there has merely jumped at the conclusion that it was I, because I do drive a Dodge car."

The oil man said that he could give an alibi as to his whereabouts for the last six months if necessary. He stated that he left Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock on his way to Graham, from where he intended to go to Caddo to see a party with reference to the payment of some money.

He met the man out of Eliasville and it was not necessary for him to make the remainder of the trip. On his return he arrived in Graham about six o'clock Friday evening.

Upon arriving in Wichita Falls Saturday morning, he said he had only fifteen minutes to catch the train for Fort Worth and parking his car in front of the house and without waking any of his family or changing clothes, he left. He said after transacting the business in Fort Worth Saturday he returned home, arriving here about 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

Asked concerning his clothes, Mr.

DEVELOPMENTS UPSET PLAN FOR IMMEDIATE PEACE WITH GERMANY

HARDING NOT DISPOSED TO ACT PENDING ALLIED AGREEMENT.

GERMANY'S REFUSAL TO ACCEPT TERMS IN WAY

Favors Withholding Action On The Knox Peace Resolution During Negotiations.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Harding's plans for an immediate declaration of peace with Germany have been upset by that nation's stubborn refusal to accept the allied reparations terms, it was learned today.

Harding is said to feel that adoption of the Knox peace resolution at a time when British and French troops are mobolized to enforce the allied terms by marching into the Ruhr basin and occupying important German industrial centers would be construed abroad as a direct affront to our late associates in the war.

One of Harding's campaign pledges was to make formal peace with Germany immediately upon entering the white house. But now he favors withholding action temporarily on the Knox resolution which he had previously approved in Marion and has suggested to senate leaders that they go ahead on the Colombia treaty and other agreements which still wait ratification.

Harding has decided this is the best way to avoid appearing to approve Germany's present course.

Harding plans a further conference over the situation and legislative matters with Senator Lodge, republican leader, at the white house today.

With replies to the note sent Panama and Costa Rica late Saturday demanding immediate cessation of hostilities between the two countries expected at any time, Harding had another international situation to deal with. The president is expected to send a list of appointments to the senate at noon today. These will consist largely of assistant secretaryships in the executive departments.

MINOR TREATIES TO BE CONSIDERED TODAY BY THE NEW SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In addition to receiving a list of nominations from President Harding, the new senate today planned to take up a number of minor treaties, including several commercial treaties with Latin-American nations.

These together with the Colombian treaty were reffered to the foreign relations committee last Saturday.

While it was still unsettled whether the Colombian treaty which was expected to be reported out today by the committee, would be disposed of at the extraordinary session, President Harding was said to have indicated in conference with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader, that he hoped for its early disposal.

The pending treaties it was indicated strongly by republican leaders that the "three power" treaty guaranteeing France against aggression, would remain in the foreign relations pigeon hole indefinitely, while President Harding's inaugural address was said to have left no doubt that the Versailles treaty would remain in the archives of the White House.

The nominations to be presented by the president today included the appointment of assistant secretaries in several of the government's departments.

MARSHAL FOCH ISSUES ORDERS FOR AN IMMEDIATE ADVANCE TO ENFORCE DEMANDS OF ALLIES

By Associated Press.

LONDON, March 7.—Marshal Foch tonight ordered the allied troops to move into new German territory tomorrow. This was announced officially.

It was stated that there might be one day's delay before the allied armies got under way.

LONDON, March 7.—Allied troops will march into Germany tomorrow in accordance with the decision of the allies to inflict on Germany the penalties provided for because of the non-fulfillment of her reparations obligations, it was announced officially this evening.

After the Germans left the conference this afternoon the British, French and Belgian premiers telegraphed orders for the immediate occupation by the allied troops of Ruhrort, Duisburg and Duesselford.

The German delegation will return to Germany tomorrow. Its members said after the conference that they were not empowered to make any further proposals and that they regretted the possibility that the allied troops were already marching upon Germany.

The instructions to allied commanders on the Rhine were given after the premiers had requested Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson to join in the discussion of the action to be taken. The allied representatives will meet again tomorrow to further the concerted enforcement of the various penalties.

PARIS, March 7.—The French superior war council was called into session today with President Millerand himself presiding. It was believed the council concerned itself with preparations for advancing into Germany if the need arises.

BRUSSELS, March 7.—Minister of War Devese hurriedly left Brussels for London today following a cabinet meeting in which reparations and penalties were discussed.

PARIS, March 7.—The hour for the advance of the allied troops to occupy Duesseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort will be daybreak tomorrow, it was announced here tonight.

LONDON, March 7.—(4 p. m.)—The British cabinet has been called into session for this evening in connection with the German crisis.

Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in commons and a member of the cabinet, speaking before the Constitutional club, declared the "situation is very unsatisfactory—it's serious.

LONDON, March 7.—The German reparations proposals are not acceptable and do not justify postponement of the penalties to be inflicted by the allies, it was officially announced following the final conference at 4:30 p. m. today.

The penalties laid down for German refusal to accept the demands of the allies, including occupation of Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort in the Ruhr valley, seizure of customs houses, the levying of a tax on German exports and establishment of a customs line along the Rhine.

Von Simons got into communication with Berlin immediately on arrival at his hotel following the conference.

Lloyd George, arriving at St. James Palace, was cheered by a large crowd in the streets.

"Make them pay!" the crowd yelled.

By ED L. KEEN

United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, March 7.—Germany today protested to the League of Nations against the menace of an allied invasion.

The protest was filed with the league council.

Foreign Minister Von Simons of Germany gave notice of his intention of appealing to the league when he said to the allied representatives during their meeting today:

"Germany is not a member of the league, but has signed the pact. I therefore appeal to the league in the name of the German government against the penalties by which we are menaced."

At the time in anticipation of a rupture, the German delegation made preparations to leave London tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

The forenoon session closed after Von Simons had presented the German proposals and Lloyd George showed his disapproval of them.

"I am afraid I must tell you there is no doubt as to the answer the allies are forced to give," Lloyd George said.

"I think it is desirable, owing to the gravity of the situation that we adjourn until 4:30 when we can give a carefully considered answer."

Von Simons based his appeal to the league on covenant articles defining the mode of settlement of disputes between league members and non-members.

French delegates obstinately opposed the German proposal of five annual payments with an agreement to be reached later on the total sum to be paid. Germany refused to consider the entente suggestion of annual payments of three billion marks for thirty years.

COUNTER PROPOSALS ARE SUBMITTED BY GERMANY

LONDON, March 7.—Foreign Minister Von Simons of Germany today informed the allies that he was unable to agree to the reparations demanded at the Paris conference.

However, the Germans modified their original rejection of the allied demands with the following counter proposals:

1. Agreement to make five of the yearly payments demanded by the allies. (The allies demanded payments extending over 42 years.)

2. Acceptance of the 12 per cent tax on exports, provided that Germany be permitted to flont a loan; that upper Silesia remain German and that commercial restrictions against Germany be abolished.

Von Simons declared that owing to a divergence of views among the Germans, it was necessary to abandon the idea of fixing a total for the idemnity.

They had decided, he said, to revert to the idea of a provisional arrangement providing for payments over a period of from three to five years.

The allies' proposal for a 12 per cent tax on German exports is not practicable, he declared, but the Germans will accept it.

Von Simons said if the allies would accept the proposal the Germans would assign their experts to co-operate with the allies to draft an agreement, proceeding as soon as possible thereafter to fix payments for a 30-year period.

He declared it would be necessary to ask a week's delay if the allies insist on fixing the indemnity total now.

Pleading for acceptance of his suggestion, Von Simons declared:

"If you insist that we fix the total offer now, I shall have to ask a week's delay in order to consult the cabinet personally.

"I think it is important that mistake shall stand between Germany and the allies. If there is a big difference between the amount named at Paris and the German offer it can not be explained on the basis that we desire to evade the treaty or even mock the treaty. It is to be explained through differences of consumption and Germany's capacity to pay."

Von Simons asserted that he is aware of the damage wrought by the world war, but declared no one will benefit if heavy terms are fixed now for the decade to come.

The German spokesman touched only briefly on the question of war guilt which Lloyd George had charged directly to Germany. His country was not alone responsible, he said. He preferred, he said, that the matter of indemnity should have been settled under the terms of the Versailles treaty, but that he was agreeing to the present negotiations for the sake of a peaceable understanding.

The Germans appeared to have little hope of averting a rupture after the session today.

Lloyd George asked Von Simons if the delegation was prepared to offer guarantees for payments extending over the first five years.

The Germans replied that it was not, but that he favored the appointment now of a commission to begin the work of establishing future payments.

INFORMAL CONVERSATIONS ARE RESUMED AT LONDON

LONDON, March 7.—"Informal conversations" between allies and Germans today led to the possibility that a climax to the reparations conference may not be reached before tomorrow.

The German delegation still held to its vow that it will not sign the demands drafted by the Paris conference which include indemnity of $55,000,000,000. The delegation's case, when the conversation began early today, rested on these proposals:

The payment of 15,000,000,000 gold marks in the next five years.

The flotation of a German loan within Germany.

Deduction by the entente of a portion of the prices buyers pay for German goods.

A later conference to fix the balance.

The informal conversations have led to the consideration of three plans of which the foregoing was regarded as the most important.

Premier Lloyd George was reported to have suggested that the Germans pay 35 annuities of 3,000,000,000 gold marks cash in addition to thirty per cent tax on exports. He also proposed that the reparations commission should fix a value on goods on payments already made.

M. Loucheur was said to have submitted that plan to Foreign Minister

HARDING ADMINISTRATION WILL MAINTAIN ATTITUDE OF WILSON IN WESTERN UNION CABLE ISSUE

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The attitude of the Wilson administration in refusing to allow the landing of the Barbadoes cable at Miami, Fla., will be maintained by the state department under Secretary Hughes, according to an authoritative statement here today.

The reason the state department has refused to allow the landing of the Western Union cable at Miami is because of its connection at Barbadoes with the British Western Telegraph company cable running to Brazil. The British have a cable monopoly along the coast of Brazil, which the United States has continually opposed.

Definite action toward the laying of the cable at Miami was held up today pending a decision of the matter by President Harding.

Secretary of the Navy Denby had reports on the action of American submarine chaser in preventing the attempt to land the cable Saturday, but was taking no action.

PROSECUTIONS OF HOARDERS OF FOOD WILL BE STOPPED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—All prosecutions of hoarders of foodstuffs under the Lever law will be stopped, despite the fact that the anti-hoarding provision of the statute was not involved in the decision of the supreme court last Monday holding the anti-profiteering sections unconstitutional, Solicitor General Frierson today announced.

HOLD ERIE RAILROAD GUILTY OF VIOLATING TRANSPORTATION ACT

CHICAGO, March 7.—The railway labor board handed down a decision ruling that the Erie railroad had violated previous board ruling in six respects, particularly in reducing the wages of employes and in failing to cancel these reductions when ordered to do so by the board. The road had contended that the board must hold a hearing before ordering restoration of previous rates of pay.

The railroad ordered a 27 per cent reduction in the pay of track men effective February 1, and later ignored the board's order to restore wages to the rates ordered in the board's decision of July, 1920.

The road set a precedent by its contention that a hearing would have to be held on the board order to restore the previous rates of pay. Had today's decision been favorable to the Erie, it would have opened the way for scores of similar contentions by other roads, it was said.

The board's decision upheld labor's contentions in every instance.

DECISION WILL ESTABLISH PRECEDENT IN CONTROVERSIES

CHICAGO, March 7.—A railroad labor decision which would set a precedent in railroad wage reduction controversies was expected today in the case of the Erie railroad which ordered a 27 per cent reduction in unskilled labor rates effective February 1, and subsequently ignored the board's order to restore the rates of the July, 1920, wage award.

Protest against the retrenchment order, which reduced common labor pay and deducted one day's pay a week from the salaries of all employes paid on a monthly basis, was made to the board soon after it became effective. The board ordered a hearing in a ruling issued February 12, meanwhile directing the road to confer with its employes and to make no change in rates of pay or working conditions except by agreement with the employes.

When the case came before the board on February 23, the employes charged violation of the transportation act in setting aside the provisions of Decision No 2, the wage award applying to common labor. Erie representatives admitted that a reduction had been made and was still in effect. They denied, however, that the road had violated the transportation act and contended that a hearing was necessary before the board could order its wage award continued.

Business depression, reduced cost of living and revenues below operating expenses were given by the road as the reasons for the reduction order.

The road maintained its right to hire common labor at the prevailing local rates, declaring this class of workers was governed by the law of supply and demand.

A decision favorable to the Erie would pave the way for other roads to make similar wage cuts, it was said, and would preface a flood of controversies on the board. Numerous other lines have already announced conferences set for tomorrow on the question of maintainence of wage reductions. The Erie decision, it was said, would play a considerable part in these negotiations.

U. S. COMMISSIONERS OFFER MEDIATION IN THE ATLANTA STRIKE

ATLANTA, GA., March 7.—Commissioners of the United States board of mediation were due to arrive here today to attempt a settlement of a strike which has affected approximately 5,000 employes of the A. B. & A. railway.

Commissioner Chambers of the board who is being accompanied here by Assistant Commissioner Kluttz, was said to have offered mediation on the ground that the strike was detrimental to the public interest. Reports from Macon, said to have emanated from union sources, that railroad crafts throughout the southeast were taking a strike vote on the issue of the A. B. & A. dispute, were subsequently denied here last night by brotherhood officials. They declared the strike would be confined to the single road and also that the purchase of Receiver Bugg to resume operation of trains as soon as new employes could be recruited, as announced by him last night, would not be opposed by the unions.

BASEBALL MAGNATE IS ACTING RAILROAD ENGINEER

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., March 7.—The first mail train to move on the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad since the strike was called on that road Saturday, left here this morning with A. H. (Rick) Woodward, chairman of the board of directors of the Woodward Iron company and owner of the Birmingham baseball club, acting as engineer.

Woodward was a member of the board of directions of the railroad before it was placed in the hands of a receiver.

The train carried passengers.

The other members of the train crew are officials of the road and the Woodward Iron company.

GUSHER IS REPORTED IN ALASKA TERRITORY

Shoots Oil 100 Feet In The Air And Is Reported Making Fifteen Hundred Barrels.

DAWSON, YT., March 7.—Tales of an oil well which produces 1,500 barrels a day and shot oil 100 feet into the air before it was capped, were brought from Fort MacPherson today by a patrol of Canadian mounted police who left here in early January on a 500-mile trip to the mouth of the Mackenzie river. Fort Norman is on the Mackenzie river about 400 miles south of the Arctic ocean and 500 miles east of the Alaskan border.

The information was contained in letters received at MacPherson while the patrol was stopping there and said the cap of the well was blown off ten times during the first six hours after the well was opened. The first oil drillers reached Fort Norman some time ago from Fort Yukon by way of Fort MacPherson and the Arctic Red river.

The patrol included four mounted policemen, two Indians and five dog teams.

The "Gloria Scott"

PART ONE.

"Have some papers here," said my friend, Sherlock Holmes, as we sat one winter's night on either side of the fire, "which I really think, Watson, that it would be worth your while to glance over. These are the documents in the extraordinary case of Gloria Scott, and this is the message which struck Justice of the Peace Trevor dead with horror when he read it."

He had picked from a drawer a little the tarnished cylinder, and, undoing the tape, he handed me a short note scrawled upon a half-sheet of slate-gray paper.

"The supply of game for London is going steadily up," it ran. "Head-keeper Hudson, we believe, has been now told to receive all orders for fly paper and for preservation of your hen-pheasant's life."

As I glanced up from reading this enigmatical message, I saw Holmes chuckling at the expression upon my face.

"You look a little bewildered," said he.

"I cannot see how such a message as this could inspire horror. It seems to me to be rather grotesque than otherwise."

"Very likely. Yet the fact remains that the reader, who was a fine, robust old man was knocked clean down by it as if it had been the butt end of a pistol."

"You arouse my curiosity," said I. "But why did you say just now that there were very particular reasons why I should study this case?"

"Because it was the first in which I was ever engaged."

I had often endeavored to elicit from my companion what had first turned his mind in the direction of criminal research, but had never caught him before in a communicative humor. Now he sat forward in his arm-chair and spread out the documents upon his knees. Then he lit his pipe and sat for some time smoking and turning them over.

"You never heard me talk of Victor Trevor?" he asked. "He was the only friend I made during the two years I was at college. I was never a very sociable fellow, Watson, always rather fond of moping in my rooms and working out my own little methods of thought, so that I never mixed much with the men of my year. Bar fencing and boxing I had few athletic tastes, and then my line of study was quite distinct from that of the other fellows, so that we had no points of contact at all. Trevor was the only man I knew, and that only through the accident of his bull terrier freezing onto my ankle one morning as I went down to chapel.

"It was a prosaic way of forming a friendship, but it was effective. I was laid by the heels for ten days, and Trevor used to come in to inquire after me. At first it was only a minute's chat, but soon his visits lengthened and before the end of the term we were close friends. He was a hearty, full-blooded fellow, full of spirits and energy, the very opposite to me in most respects, but we had some subjects in common, and it was a bond of union when I found that he was as friendless as I. Finally, he invited me down to his father's place at Donnithorpe, in Norfolk, and I accepted his hospitality for a month of the long vacation.

"Old Trevor was evidently a man of some wealth and consideration, a J. P. and a landed proprietor. Donnithorpe is a little hamlet just to the north of Langmere, in the country of the Broads. The house was an old-fashioned, widespread, oak-beamed brick building, with a fine lime-lined avenue leading up to it. There was excellent wild duck shooting in the fens, remarkably good fishing, a small but select library, taken over, as I understand, from a former occupant, and a tolerable cook, so that he would be a fastidious man who could not put in a pleasant month there.

"Trevor senior was a widower and my friend his only son.

"There had been a daughter, I heard, but she had died of diphtheria while on a visit to Birmingham. The father interested me extremely. He was a man of little culture, but with a considerable amount of rude strength, both physically and mentally. He knew hardly any books, but he had traveled far, had seen much of the world, and had remembered all that he had learned. In person he was a thick-set burly man with a shock of grizzled hair, a brown, weather-beaten face, and blue eyes which were keen to the verge of fierceness. Yet he had a reputation for kindness and charity on the country-side, and was noted for the leniency of his sentences from the bench.

"One evening, shortly after my arrival, we were sitting over a glass of port after dinner, when young Trevor began to talk about those habits of observation and inference which I had already formed into a system, although I had not yet appreciated the part which they were to play in my life. The old man evidently thought that his son was exaggerating in his description of one or two trivial feats which I had performed.

"'Come, now Mr Holmes,' said he, laughing good humoredly. 'I'm an excellent subject, if you can deduce anything from me.'

"I fear there is not very much,' I answered; 'I might suggest that you have gone about in fear of some personal attack within the last twelve-month.'

"The laugh faded from his lips, and he stared at me in great surprise.

"'Well, that's true enough,' said he, 'You know, Victor,' turning to his son, 'when we broke up that poaching gang they swore to knife us, and Sir Edward Holly has actually been attacked. I've always been on my guard since then, though I have no idea how you know it.'

"'You have a very handsome stick,' I answered. 'By the inscription I observed that you had not had it more than a year. But you have taken some pains to bore the head so as to make it a formidable weapon. I argued that you would not take such precautions unless you had some danger to fear.'

"'Anything else?' he asked, smiling.

"'You have boxed a good deal in your youth.'

"'Right again. How did you know it? Is my nose knocked a little out of the straight?'

"'No,' said I. 'It is your ears. They have the peculiar flattening and thickening which marks the boxing man.'

"'Anything else?'

"'You have done a good deal of digging by your callosities.'

"'Made all my money at the gold fields.'

"'You have been in New Zealand.'

"'Right again.'

"'You have visited Japan.'

"'Quite true.'

"'And you have been most intimately associated with some one whose initials were J. A., and whom you afterwards were eager to entirely forget.'

"Mr. Trevor stood slowly up, fixed his large blue eyes upon me with a strange wild stare, and then pitched forward, with his face among the nut-shells which strewed the cloth, in a dead faint.

"You can imagine, Watson, how shocked both his son and I were. His attack did not last long, however, for when we u.did his collar and sprinkled the water from one of the finger-glasses over his face, he gave a gasp or two and sat up.

"'Ah, boys,' said he, forcing a smile, 'I hope I haven't frightened you. Strong as I look, there is a weak place in my heart, and it does not take much to knock me over. I don't know how you manage this, Mr. Holmes, but it seems to me that all the detectives of fact and of fancy would be children in your hands. That's your line of life, sir, and you may take the word of a man who has seen something of the world.'

"And that recommendation with the exaggerated estimate of my ability with which he prefaced it, was, if you will believe me, Watson, the very first thing which ever made me feel that a profession might be made out of what had up to that time been the merest hobby. At the moment, however, I was too much concerned at the sudden illness of my host to think of anything else.

"'I hope that I have said nothing to pain you?' said I.

"'Well, you certainly touched upon rather a tender point. Might I ask how you know, and how much you know?' He spoke now in a half-jesting fashion, but a look of terror still lurked at the back of his eyes.

"'It is simplicity itself,' said I. 'When you bared your arm to draw that fish into the boat I saw that J. A. had been tattooed in the bend of the elbow. The letters were still legible, but it was perfectly clear from their blurred appearance and from the staining of the skin round them, that efforts had been made to obliterate them. It was obvious, then, that those initials had once been very familiar to you, and that you had afterwards wished to forget them!'

"'What an eye you have!' he cried, with a sigh of relief. 'It is just as you say. But we won't talk of it. Of all ghosts the ghosts of our old loves are the worst. Come into the billiard room and have a quiet cigar.'

* * * *

"From that day, amid all his cordiality, there was always a touch of suspicion in Mr. Trevor's manner toward me. Even his son remarked it. 'You've given the governor such a turn,' said he, 'that he'll never be sure again of what you know and what you don't know.' He did not mean to show it, I am sure, but it was so strongly in his mind that it peeped out at every action. At last I became so convinced that I was causing him uneasiness that I drew my visit to a close. On the very day, however, before I left, an incident occurred which proved in the sequel to be of importance.

"We were sitting out upon the lawn on garden chairs, the three of us, basking in the sun and admiring the view across the Broads, when a maid came out to say that there was a man at the door who wanted to see Mr Trevor.

"'What is his name?' asked my host.

"'He would not give any.'

"'What does he want, then?'

"'He says that you know him, and that he only wants a moment's conversation.'

"'Show him round here.' An instant afterwards there appeared a little wizened fellow with a cringing manner and a shambling style of walking. He wore an open jacket, with a splotch of tar on the sleeve, a red-and-black check shirt, dungaree trousers, and heavy boots badly orn. His face was thin and brown and crafty, with a perpetual smile upon it, which showed an irregular line of yellow teeth, and his crinkled hands were half closed in a way that is distinctive of sailors. As he came slouching across the lawn I heard Mr. Trevor make a sort of hic-coughing noise in his throat, and, jumping out of his chair, he ran into the house. He was back in a moment and I smelt a strong reek of brandy as he passed me.

"'Well, my man,' said he. 'What can I do for you?'

"The sailor stood looking at him with puckered eyes, and with the same loose-lipped smile upon his face.

"'You don't know me?' he asked.

"'Why, dear me, it is surely Hudson,' said Mr. Trevor in a tone of surprise.

"'Hudson it is, sir,' said the seaman. 'Why, it's thirty year and more since I saw you last. Here you are in your house, and me still picking my salt meat out of the harness cask.'

"'Tut, you will find that I have not forgotten old times,' cried Mr. Trevor, and, walking toward the sailor, he said something in a low voice. 'Go into the kitchen,' he continued out loud, 'and you will get food and drink. I have no doubt that I shall find you a situation.'

"'Thank you, sir,' said the seaman, touching his forelock. 'I'm just off a two-yearer in an eight-knot tramp, short-handed at that, and I wants a rest. I thought I'd get it either with Mr. Beddoes or with you.'

"'Ah!' cried Mr. Trevor. 'You know where Mr. Beddoes is?'

"'Bless you, sir, I know where all my old friends are,' said the fellow with a sinister smile, and he slouched off after the maid to the kitchen. Mr Trevor mumbled something to us about having been shipmate with the man when he was going back to the diggings, and then, leaving us on the lawn, he went indoors. An hour later, when we entered the house, we found him stretched dead drunk upon the dining room sofa. The whole incident left a most ugly impression upon my mind, and I was not sorry next day to leave Donnithorpe behind me, for I felt that my presence must be a source of embarrassment to my friend.

"All this occurred during the first month of the long vacation. I went up to my London rooms, where I spent seven weeks working out a few experiments in organic chemistry. One day, however, when the autumn was far advanced and the vacation drawing to a close, I received a telegram from my friend imploring me to return to Donnithorpe, and saying that he was in great need of my advice and assistance. Of course I dropped everything and set out for the north once more.

"He met me with the dog-cart at the station, and I saw at a glance that the last two months had been very trying ones for him. He had grown thin and careworn, and had lost the loud, cheery manner for which he had been remarkable.

"'The governor is dying,' were the first words he said.

"'Impossible!' I cried. 'What is the matter?'

"'Apoplexy. Nervous shock. He's been on the verge all day. I doubt if we shall find him alive.'

"I was, as you may think, Watson, horrified at this unexpected news.

"'What has caused it?' I asked.

"'Ah, that is the point. Jump in and we can talk it over while we drive. You remember that fellow who came upon us the evening before you left us?'

"'Perfectly.'

"'Do you know who it was that we let into the house that day?'

"'I have no idea.'

"'It was the devil, Holmes,' he cried. "I stared at him in astonishment.

"'Yes, it was the devil himself. We have not had a peaceful hour since—not one. The governor has never held up his head from that evening, and now the life has been crushed out of him and his heart broken, all through this accursed Hudson.'

"'What power had he, then?'

"'Ah, that is what I would give so much to know. The kindly, charitable, old governor—how could he have fallen into the clutches of such a ruffian! But I am so glad that you have come, Holmes. I trust very much to your judgment and discretion, and I know that you will advise me for the best.'"

GOVERNOR HARDING TO CONTINUE WITH THE RESERVE BOARD

NOT EXPECTED TO RESIGN ALTHOUGH HE IS A DEMOCRAT.

CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED HE WILL BE RE-APPOINTED

President Will Emphasize The Non-Partisan Character Of This Institution.

By MARK SULLIVAN,
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post.

(Copyright 1921 by the New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—The governor of the federal reserve board, W. P. G. Harding, who is a democrat appointed by Wilson from Birmingham, Ala., will not be expected to resign by President Harding, and will not take the office of president of a private bank for foreign trade but will continue in his position until the end of his term in 1922, and it may confidently be expected, will then be reappointed for another ten-year term.

In this news there is cause for great satisfaction. Within the past few weeks it has been apprehended, and very frequently implied in the news, that the dignity and permanence of the federal reserve board was menaced in two ways.

For one it has been taken for granted that President Harding would regard the governor of the federal reserve board the same as cabinet members, diplomats, and others would expect him to resign and would fill the office with a republican; in fact scores of names of republicans have been mentioned for the post.

But President Harding, on the suggestion of some of his advisors has determined to take advantage of his opportunity to emphasize the non-partisan character of this institution and to create for it that most important tradition of dignity and immunity from politics that is attached to the supreme court of the United States.

In the opinion of thoughtful persons desirous that the federal board should have the authority and the public confidence that go with acknowledged impartiality, this is one of the finest things in President Harding's conduct of the beginnings of his administration.

One other apprehension arising out of news that has figured importantly in the papers recently is removed by this same attitude of President Harding.

Some months ago it was announced that a group of bankers was forming a $105,000,000 corporation for foreign trade, and that as soon as the formation should be completed they would offer the presidency of it to Governor Harding of the reserve board.

This seemed to threaten to make out of the governorship of the federal reserve board one of those less dignified and ephemeral federal offices in which men serve for a brief time in order to acquire experience, and then capitalize that experience by accepting office in private corporations at very much larger incomes.

If the federal reserve board, which is still comparatively in its beginnings, should become fixed in custom in the public mind as that kind of a body, it would be unfortunate. The thing to aspire to is that the federal reserve board should be regarded with the same confidence and as having the same sanctity as the supreme court.

No private corporation would dream of trying to take a justice of the supreme court off the bench by an offer of many times his present salary.

Of course, the suggestion of the foreign trading corporation was justified to a degree by the expectation that the governor of the federal reserve board would be out of office anyhow because of the assumption that an incoming republican president would want the place filled by his own appointee. President Harding's attitude on this point, however, clears away all the apprehension.

In the course of time there will be minor statutory changes in the management of the federal reserve board. The two ex-officio members, the secretary of the treasury and the controller of the currency who are necessarily political will probably be removed from the board and by that act it will become possible to make the board a more and more purely non-partisan body. It is probable that in time the length of the term of members of the board will be increased to twelve years, and this approximation to the permanency of tenure which is enjoyed by justices of the supreme court will go that much further in the direction of increasing the dignity of the board and the public confidence in it. It is essential that the part of Governor W. G. P. Harding in this situation should be recognized. Everybody knows that he could make many times his official salary by going into private banking. That he should be willing to make the sacrifice in order to play in this new institution something of the part that John Marshall played in giving authority and direction to the supreme court in its beginnings is a fine bit of public service.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are th result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Right of a Woman To Smoke in Public Is Issue at Houston

HOUSTON, TEXAS, March 7.—Right of a woman to smoke in public will be decided in court here. John Park, smoker, has filed divorce proceedings against his 18 year old wife, Mabel G. Park, in which, among other things, he alleges "her smoking in public" has caused him "great mental anguish."

Business men and women of Houston were divided on whether the woman should smoke in public.

"Sure, let her smoke to her heart's content, pipe, cigarette or cigar, right down Main street," Police Sergeant Wilkins said. "There is no law against it. If the woman stands on the rear platform of our cars she may smoke all she pleases." Manager Brush of the street car company said.

"But they haven't done it yet."

"Women are not allowed to smoke in lobby or dining room," Manager Morton, Rice hotel, said. "Our head waiter has instructions not to permit them to smoke in the dining room."

"It's a woman's privilege to smoke in our rest room if the cares to do so," Mrs. G. A. Young, welfare worker at a large department store, said.

NOTHING TO IT.

"I've never tried to beat a train across the right of way, so I have still two feet on which to raise my corns today There's nothing very much to gain by hitting up the speed, be safe and sane and look both ways, has ever been my creed And so today I walk about with joy upon this sphere and never have collisions throw me on my left-hand ear

"When I rise from my downy couch with three snorts and a hoot, I do not strangle myself in my twisted union suit I wait till I can sort it out and find its legs and arms, and leisurely I drape the thing about my dimpled charms and go abroad, and when it's time to cross a busy street, I look both ways and every way, because my life is sweet Perhaps it is not sweet to all the many folks I see, but, I will tell the anxious world, I'm very fond of me and if I butted railway trains and fooled with stunts like that I'd feel extremely absent from the place where I am at.

"And I like that place more than well that's where I want to stay, I love to have my easy chair and three square meals a day I love to eat and love to drink, and watch the world go by and see the johnny-jump-ups jump up neath the springtime sky It's a good world, a grand old world, and there is lots to do; the winter time has oysters and the summer Irish stew, and there are pancakes mornings and a nice broiled steak at noon, and when a fellow's full of food the whole world is in tune.

"I like my pumpkin pie o' nights, and like my easy chair where I can read while little kids put sandburrs in my hair And that is why I never rush and never take a chance speed may seem like the road that leads up the hill to romance, but what would I do with romance if fate should crack my beah, and I should head a cavalcade out there to Evergreen?"—J. M. L., Houston Chronicle.

By Way of the Transom

By L. M. D.

"You'll have to do like the psychoanalysts do," said the Goop, hopefully

"I may be a polka-dotted wildcat," I said, "but I'm not any Psyche-anything I've never even done my hair up in a Psyche knot, It's always been coronet-braided, like it is now. . . But what do the Psyche-Anna's do that would make my ear stop hurting?"

Your ear isn't hurting anything to speak of," said the Goop calmly "It wasn't hurting enough for me to notice even In fact, I doubt if it is hurting at all I was thinking about your getting a flat tire on that Advertising Tea thing"

"Flat tire" I murmurded "You slangy thing" How came you to have such a preposterously pat thought? Just for that I won't beat about the bush I HAVE got a—er—flat tire What do you know about it?"

"Nothing," said the Goop, "but you've had several flat tires in past few months, and I thought you'd better be finding out about them."

"I don't know what you mean, 'finding out,'" I said gloomily "All I know is I've just lost all my enthusiasm When I went to bed last night I had the thing worked out to the last detail I knew we were going to make a few hundred dollars, and that it was going to be one of the prettiest and most successful affairs ever given in this small but prosperous city I could just see things fitting into other things and everybody helping

"This morning I feel like I had been steam-rolled, so far as the Advertising Tea is concerned. I've just simply gone flop

"What do you reck'n made me" Everything is just like it was last night, after we had our meeting I didn't have any bad news before breakfast and nobody has broken out with smallpox I can't understand it."

"Well, I said you'd have to do like the mind specialists do," recommended the Goop again "Don't you remember what a flat tire you had on that box supper entertainment thing last month? Oh, I know you went on with it, and it turned out all right, but you went on the rims"

"Find out what's behind it"

Considering the Goop's cheerful habit of disappearing at the crucial moment I was glad I knew how the mind specialists do so I traveled that track a while They put one to sleep, reflected, hypnotized Then they made the secondary mind, which is always awake, go back over the subject's life and see what it is treasured up in the memory that is causing the present trouble, fear, dislike, or sub- or abnormality of attitude toward some special thing

But loss of enthusiasm is scarcely a sub- or abnormality. Yet I had found myself suffering from it in sudden and unexpected visitations half a dozen times lately, with no apparent cause not even the slightest untoward happening to dampen the original interest. It had to be explained some way, and I started out to get at the bottom of it.

"I believe I got at the bottom. To make it short, it was this, and if you are a victim of "flats," too, you might try it. Because, short of a lot of real interference and difficulty, there's no reason for loss of enthusiasm on anything that has been reasonably well worked out The loss is due to the "darn crookedness" of human disposition For me, the first thought I had had on awakening had been the costume that had to be got ready during the next week for Rosie's recital. I hadn't forgotten it, but had postponed consideration knowing it would take a very short time to arrange But with the perversity of things of little account that try to camouflage themselves into mountains, it had hopped down and flopped its wings in my face with a noisy clamour Then I remembered the tea, of course, and also, of course, the natural reaction of a second remembrance of something to be done was not propitious It put the tea in bad right at the start And then, with the beginning of an unfortunate disposition toward the tea, Mrs Payne Hodges popped into my mind Mrs Payne Hodges had talked and voted in unalterable opposition to the tea, and I liked Mrs Payne Hodges The next thing I did was to plan, on account of the other things that had to be met, to leave something undone that day which is a regular daily duty It happened also to be the one thing which passes with me as my one real accomplishment, among the more ordinary routine of work The one thing which, very small and inconsequent in itself, reaches out a finger toward the outside world

Those were the only thoughts and decisions I could remember, all of which tumbled in at the same time So I took them up one by one I knew Rosie's costume was a small matter, and proceeded to pigeonhole it in the proper recess, for later consideration. Mrs Payne Hodges was despatched about as quickly While I liked her and respected her judgment in most things, the big majority had voted for the tea, and would work like Trojans for its success I was surprised that it had seemed to matter so much, for just a minute.

Then I got busy and did the thing I do every day. It's troublesome and difficult—often—but I knew that that fact had probably been at the bottom of my temptation to leave it undone. By crowding a little and making an extra effort I could do it.

I had to talk hard and work hard, and yet, with the extra work the enthusiasm for the tea came back Things smoothed out, and I worked definitely to smooth them. By afternoon I felt as if I had laid a ghost

Yet the solution was simply that I had discovered the ghost, and it had worked the same as it does in cases of fear. There had been no honest reason for the flat," and so—there wasn't any flat. The tricky trouble makers in my mind had had an unveiling, and they shivered to nothingness in the daylight of reason.

Lester Inman, arrested late Saturday night by Texas Ranger M T Gonzaules on complaint of the latter's wife, was released from custody by Police Commissioner Bralley Sunday afternoon.

Commissioner Bralley, after hearing the details of the case, decided that the punishment meted out by Gonzaules had been sufficient, a view also held by Inman He told the commissioner that he guessed he deserved the beating and that if released he would leave town at once. His home, he said, was in Paducah.

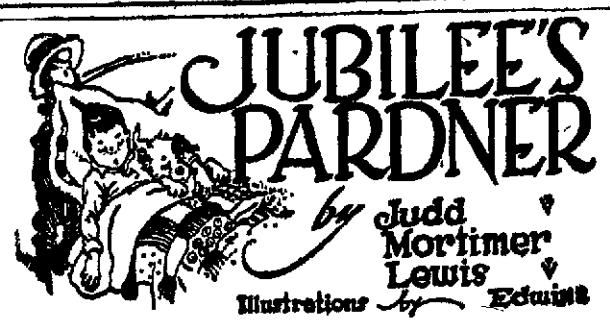
JUBILEE SINGERS SING AT SUNDAY SERVICES AND GET $1240 FOR ORPHANAGE

A total of $1 240 was subscribed Sunday for support of the Dickson orphanage for negro children at Gilmer Rev. W. L. Dickson and his young jubilee singers" appeared at the meeting of the men's Bible class of the M. E church, south, at the morning service of that church and at the evening service of the First Baptist church

Monday morning the singers were at the high school, where their music met with such a hearty reception that it was decided to have a concert for all the children of the city Thursday night at the high school The singers will also be at the M E church south, Wednesday night

Dickson spoke briefly at the conclusion of the sermon at the First M E church, south, and was followed by Dr Knickerbocker, who said that Dickson was the kind of negro whose work ought to have hearty support The congregation pledged $1 000 to the orphanage Dickson spoke at the First Baptist church at the evening service, at which $240 was taken as a free will offering



Yesterday when Sunday school was out and we was down to the sink factory looking around we had a skeem to make a lot of money Frenchy says the Chinees eat rats and that they catch them and skin them and split them open and spread them out flat and dry them and they will keep forever. So we were all going to sink a barrel in the ground under the stink factory and catch a lot of rats and sell them to Chinees when we got them dried, and we would have done it, too only we happened to remember that the only Chinee that ever lived in town died or moved away or something

This morning it was drizzling when we were going to school, and we walked slow so we would get wet and maybe Jonesy would send us home to get dry, and she asted us how we happened to get so wet and I said we got caught in the rain, and she said that anyone that would get caught in that kind of a rain better watch out or he would get run over by a snail sometime, and to go to our seats and get busy Our jogafy says it never rains in the Sarah desert. It might as well never rain here

When school was out we went out to the pasture and over through the woods to Mud Turkle pond to see if there were any turkles out yet. The Lost Bag of Tripe said if you sneek up behind a mud turkle and hold a lit match under his tail he will be so surprised he will jump out of his shell I should think he would Anything would But we could not find one

When it has gotten warmer I am going out there all by myself and catch the first turkle and jump him out of the shell he lives in, and I will take some salve and rag to put on his tail where it will be blistered I bet that a turtle that is out of his shell can be folded up and put in a fella's pocket. I asted my grandfather if it would jump out of its shell and he said he did not see how it could help it Neither do I. There was not any turkles out yet

And we walked slow so we would get wet and maybe Jonesy would send us home to get dry

We cut a flag pole and brung it home and nailed it on the peak of our barn to be ready for the Fourth and then Banty went to climb up it with a rope tied to his waist to put a pulley on it, and the pole began to come un-nailed from the barn and lean out toardst the yard so we all pulled on the rope and Banty and the pole fell over on the barn, and we all nearly rolled off the barn Banty was mad because we pulled him over I bet if we had let him fall over and it had stuck in the ground with him hanging to it upside down he would have been madder Some fellas don't know when their lives have been saved. We don't need a flag pole anyhow. We have not got a flag, so why should we.

I saw my father looking at me after supper and I knew he was going to tell me to go to bed, so I said: "Father, do you care if I go to bed right now?" He looked at me a minute, and then he said: "Just for that I have got a good mind to make you set up all night." I went to bed. Jubilee too.

FLORENCE AUSTIN CHASE OPENS TIMES COOKING SCHOOL MONDAY WITH SPLENDID "HOME" LECTURE

Florence Austin Chase opened The Times Cooking School Monday afternoon, giving her splendid initial lecture on the home to an enthusiastically interested audience of Wichita Falls housekeepers in the basement of the First Baptist church

The school opened at 2 o clock promptly, and there wasn't a dull moment from 2 to 5 when the last demonstration was completed and exhibited The big gathering of women present was representative of the best home-making talent in the City from those who came in limousines to those who came on foot. Pencils and notebooks were very much in evidence, and questions were asked freely during the demonstration

Mrs Chase struck a responsive chord in every woman's heart present with her opening talk on 'The Home ' and when she later proved herself a mistress of the beautiful art of concocting a delectable looking salad making the dressing, and baking the cheese biscuits to accompany it in a remarkably short period, her triumph was complete She seemed to be taken into the inner circle" immediately

Home Building.

Practical suggestions in the opening lecture on 'Home Building" embodied every angle of economy utility and comfort in the home In the discussion from the standpoint of interior woodwork and wall paper selection, Mrs Chase said in part

"The wall spaces the woodwork, windows and doors make up the background of a room and their treatment is the most important part of the furnishings If the available money is limited start with the background If more changes can be made let them be in the hangings and rugs, for next to the background these are the most important things in the room

'Having disposed of backgrounds, rugs and hangings furniture and decorative material can be dealt with very easily very simple and quite gradually with the continuous feeling of satisfaction that the room is growing better each day The mistake made by most people is in trying to make things appear moderately satisfactory against impossible background

Things To Consider.

'There are many things one must take into consideration when selecting color schemes for the different rooms room is located is important The south The side of the house on which the and southeast rooms, with their almost continual sun, call for a choice of cool colors those on the northwest with their natural grey light require warm and more luscious color

'When one attempts to select a trim a wallpaper or a rug, without first considering the number of windows in a room from what direction the light comes in how much light the room gets and what part of the day the room gets the light the one thing which will assist in deciding on the right background has been omitted

Every room should have a predominant color It is wise to keep wallpaper of neutral or unobtrusive color Walls may be either papered or painted Painted walls have some advantage over papered ones If painted with oil the color will last for years and may be easily cleaned by careful washing with soap and water

'In selecting wallpaper, tans and grays are good choice for backgrounds while a pattern or a stripe in the same or similar colors are more interesting than the plain color Large color patterns are seldom suitable for any room and although it is possible to use a pattern or striped paper in a hall, it must be similar in color to the paper used in adjoining rooms Flower patterns are effective only in very simple bed rooms

In discussing foods and the importance of salads Mrs Chase drove home these facts

Housewife Must Know.

"Every housewife should know what food is and what part it plays in the building of strong bodies In many respects the human body resembles an engine and is often spoken of as a human machine

'Like other machines, it must have material first to build it, second, to repair its several parts as they are worn out and third, to serve as fuel Every thought, feeling and motion of the body contributes to the waste of tissue and requires that some tissue building material be supplied

'The human body, unlike other machines, builds itself repairs itself, and regulates its functions while in health It can, when necessary, use its own material as fuel to produce heat

'Just as different kinds of coal or wood produce different quantities of heat and force producing properties, so different foods have different heat and force producing properties. A perfect food must contain all of the nutritive elements of the body—proteins, carbohydrates fats mineral salts and water No one food contains all these elements hence the necessity of a mixed diet, whereby one food may be used to supplement what is lacking in another

"The proteins found largely in meat, fish and eggs furnish the greater part of the material needed for tissue building. Carbohydrates and fats, these include starches and sugars, oils, cream, butter and other fats, these contribute the production of heat and energy The minerals and water are found in nearly all foods, but in large proportions in the fruits and vegetables In addition to the minerals, fruits contain a great deal of water, which is of use in regulating body processes and certain acids of pleasant flavor which does for the body what medicine might do except that they do it better

'In addition also to the minerals which the vegetables contain, the leafy variety such as cabbage, cauliflower Swiss chard, Brussels sprouts, lettuce celery tops turnips and other vegetables of like character have an especially high value when combined with oil as in a salad, furnishing one of the peculiar accessory substances commonly known as 'Vitamines'

'Recent experiments in the field of nutrition reveal the fact that health cannot be long sustained without eating the foods containing vitamines Vitamines are found in butterfat and whole milk but the value of fruits and vegetables cannot be over estimated.

Salads Popular.

"The salad has grown in popularity until today there are very few tables of the American people where it has not its place For many years the salad was made of nothing but some one of the greens. They are now made in endless variety and are composed of meat, fish, eggs, fruit and vegetables.

"The dinner salad, unless it is the main dish at the meal, should be composed of vegetables, one alone or a combination of two or three, and it should be dressed with a French dressing Every family would be the healthier for a green salad daily

"The leafy variety of vegetables, such as cabbage, cauliflower Swiss chard, collards, Brussels sprouts, lettuce, celery tops spinach, turnip tops, and other vegetables of like character, are known as protective foods' They have an especially high value when combined with oil, furnishing one of the peculiar accessory substances commonly called vitamines

'Children, unless they have heard their elders say they never could take oil, will eat vegetables dressed with oil and lemon juice and ask for more There are so few fats palatable to children that the salad habit should be encouraged

"With the variety of materials from which to select, the salad need never become monotonous There are a variety of tastes to be considered in combining flavors Onion should be cunningly concealed or a perfectly good salad will not be eaten by some people. Sometimes just a drop or two of onion juice added to the dressing lifts a salad out of the commonplace class into the piquant Rubbing the salad bowl with a clove of garlic gives to many vegetable salads that indescribable flavor so much enjoyed by the epicure

'Many persons find the nut and vegetable oils as pleasant as olive oil for salads and the cost is much less If the peculiar flavor of the olive oil is liked that may be obtained by using part olive oil and part nut or vegetable oil The nut and vegetable oils have just as much fuel value as the olive oil.

Wash the Greens.

"All of the salad greens should be thoroughly washed drained put in a cloth bag and well chilled before being used If the greens are free of moisture the dressing will remain on the leaves and that too will be eaten instead of being left on the plate

"Salads should not be dressed until serving time If all materials are prepared beforehand it is the work of but a moment to add the dressing at the last moment, and then the salad will be a pleasure instead of a disappointment I cannot imagine anything that is less appetising than a plate of combination" salad that has been dressed so far ahead of serving time as to be wilted, rusty looking and luke warm

"All materials for salad making should be cold This is a part of a hard and fast rule Serve all hot dishes HOT and cold dishes COLD, neither should be lukewarm

The heavy mayonnaise dressing should be reserved for the meat and fish salads which are to be served as the main dish at a luncheon or evening collation It may be also used in combination with whipped cream for a fruit salad to be served at a luncheon or when the fruit salad is to take the place of dessert as well as the salad A salad dressed with a heavy mayonnaise dressing should not be eaten with a dinner which in itself contains sufficient food value The fruit salad when served at dinner may be served last and take the place of both salad and dessert

"Only Got Relief After Using Ware's Black Powder"

—says Oklahoma man who suffered for years from what doctors called chronic indigestion.

"For several years I was a sufferer from what the doctors called chronic indigestion. I tried many remedies, but only got relief after using Ware's Black Powder according to directions. I believe it the best stomach and bowel remedy I have tried, and I have tried many."

This letter from Mr. F. P. Kyger of Pawhuska, Ok., written Jan. 4th, 1920, carries conviction. Mr. Kyger, along with thousands of other people, now knows the remarkable power of this great remedy, which is now in its forty-first year of successful use in the treatment of stomach and bowel disorders. Contains no harmful drugs. Not a purgative. Sold by all druggists for 60c and $1.20 the package. Write for free booklet on stomach and bowel troubles.

MANY PROBLEMS AHEAD.

The Harding administration faces many and difficult tasks both in the foreign relations of the United States and in our domestic affairs. His administration had hardly warmed its seat before it was confronted with a war situation in Central America in which the United States will be forced to take some hand. The list of the international and domestic problems awaiting settlement is a formidable one. It includes the following:

Peace with Germany.

Final disposition of the treaties of Versailles and St. Germaine.

Decision as to the entry of the United States into an association of nations.

International disarmament.

The Japanese-California question.

The Russian question, including trade with soviet Russia.

Recognition of Mexico.

Negotiation of new treaties, diplomatic and commercial with Germany and Austria and with the new nations, Poland, Hungary and Czech-Slovakia.

Japanese occupation of Siberia.

Treaty with Colombia.

Disposition of the former German cables now held by the allies.

Recognition of the new Greek government and settlement of the status of the Greek loan.

Loans to allied countries, including funding of the British and other debts to the United States.

The Anglo-French world oil agreement of San Remo.

Cuban relations.

Military occupation of Haiti and Dominican republic.

Irish question.

Philippines independence.

Self government for Porto Rico.

Settlement of claims against Germany, grown out of the war.

Settlement of claims against Mexico resulting from revolutions there

Re-establishment of full diplomatic relations with Turkey.

Disposition of the Anglo-French-American treaty for defense of France.

Tax and tariff revision.

Soldier bonus.

Panama canal tolls.

Immigration control.

General labor policy.

Army and navy policies.

Permanent merchant marine policy.

Reorganization of government departments.

Budget system.

Civil service reform.

Strengthening of prohibition laws.

Anti-trust law revision.

Disposition of enemy property seized during the war.

Central reconstruction legislation, housing, farmer credits, railroad law revision and coal and packer control.

GOVERNOR NEFF AND THE LEGISLATURE.

Governor Neff has told the legislature that he will call a special session of that body early in the summer. At this special session it is said that Governor Neff will again submit the repeal of the suspended sentence law, the enactment of the Johnson bill providing for the removal of officers who fail to enforce the law and other measures favored by the governor which the legislature has failed to pass at the present session. Governor Neff is said to feel that after the members of the legislature have returned home and have learned the sentiment of their constituents they will be ready to return to Austin and enact the legislation he has asked. This is said to be the reason why he did not call a special session to convene immediately at the conclusion of the present session.

Governor Neff may be right in his belief that a visit home will change the attitude of legislators. We doubt it Governor Neff himself is partly to blame for some of the differences that have arisen between himself and the legislature. He could easily have been more diplomatic. In the interval while the legislators are at home some of them are likely to grow more confirmed in their resentment.

CAN A LEOPARD CHANGE HIS SPOTS.

When Thomas A. Hickey, the Texas socialist leader, "struck oil" several years ago it was freely predicted that he would desert socialism. Either Mr. Hickey's good luck was not so great as reported or he has lost his money as some others have done or his convictions were deeper than he was given credit for as we read in a dispatch from Waco that he has again taken up newspaper work and will be editor of the Voice of the People, the official organ of the Farmers-Workers Proportional League, published at Temple. One of the chief principles of the league is proportional occupational representation.

ACCEPTS PASTORATE OF VERNON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

VERNON, TEXAS, March 7.—Rev. E. L. Moore of Honey Grove has accepted the call to the pastorate of the local Presbyterian church and will come here provided the presbytery and his congregation permit. Reverend Moore has been pastor at Honey Grove for 10 years, and eight years previously was pastor at Hillsboro The Honey Grove minister is said to have done a great work in that town since assuming the pastorate and he is extremely popular with his congregation He preached in Vernon several weeks ago and his appointment to the local pastorate has been under consideration since.

The local Presbyterian church has been without a minister since the resignation of Rev Gaines R. Hall, early in December Since then various ministers have filled the pulpit here and calls to these have been under advisem

In Snow White?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Even those who have not visited the seashore are familiar with the whiteness of foam, formed by the churning up of the water so that tiny particles of it are mixed with the air—and foam is very closely allied to snow, in that both of them are formed from water. In the case of snow, however, the water is frozen and forms minute crystals, which, under the microscope, resolve themselves into structures of exquisitely delicate arrangement The microscope, however, would also show something else. It would indicate at once that the crystals of which the snowflakes are made up are each clear and transparent, being tiny particles of ice, but lying together and being placed at varying angles so that they throw the light in all directions just as salt or sugar does.

In other words, the flakes of snow do not retain any portion of the light which falls upon them, but reflect it all, thus producing the dazzling white effect which we call "snow-white," provided, of course, that the light is white. If it is colored, the snow reflects it just the same, appearing to take on the tint of the light itself.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

A Certain Man.

I cherish the picture of a man
Who has not been, but is to be.
His cheek is bronzed by the summer tan
And his smile is fair to see.
His word is good and his heart is true
And he loves the old red, white and blue.

I vision him oft and where'er he goes
Glad voices give him a warm hello.
The trust of the littles ones he knows
And respect of friend or foe.
For never the scarlet mark of shame
Has marred his record or touched his name.

He walks the world in a kindly way
He laughs when the jest is fair.
The wide outdoors are his field of play
And he loves the beauties there.
He hears God's word in the whispering trees
And the song of birds and the drone of bees.

I talk to him oft when the night is still,
I think of him day by day;
He hasn't arrived, but I pray he will
When his youth has passed away.
And what is his name and who is he?
The man that I hope my son will be

WICHITA STUDENTS ELIGIBLE FOR 1921 MILITARY CLASSES

NORMAN, OKLA., March 7.—Eight University of Oklahoma students from Texas are eligible for either the 1921 infantry, R. O. T. C. camp, Fort Logan, Colo., or the Artillery R. O. T. C. camp at Camp Knox, Ky., according to information received here this week by Major Carl A. Baehr, field artillery, U. S. A., state university commandant. Five hundred and forty-eight Sooners are eligible for these camps during 1921, which will open in June and continue six weeks Oklahomans who attend these camps will be quartered with students from Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

During the 1920 camps eight University of Oklahoma men attended the artillery camp at Camp Knox and six were enrolled in the infantry camp at Camp Jackson. The University of Oklahoma and the Oklahoma A. & M. college, Stillwater, are the only educational institutions in Oklahoma that are represented in the senior divisions of the officers' training corps, as the senior divisions are restricted to universities and colleges that require four years' study for a degree.

One of the main purposes of the summer R. O. T. C. camps, Major Baehr points out, is to put into practical operation the theoretical instruction that the student has learned during the regular university year in only a theoretical way. But systematic military training for the purpose of qualifying students as reserve officers in the military forces of the United States are not the only objects of these summer camps. Special attention is also given to the physical, mental and moral training of the young man during a formative and plastic stage in his life. Devotional services are arranged for and the services of chaplains secured Healthy amusements are also provided including athletic field meets, musical concerts, swimming, recreation, reading and writing rooms.

Transportation to and from the camps is provided by the government, including pullman and meals, and subsistence while there.

Texas R O. T C. students at the Oklahoma university who will be eligible to attend these camps this summer include: artillery, Darrell Attausen, Ranger; Paul Warfield Tenney, Rusk; Robert L. McLaren, Wichita Falls, and J. D Scott, Wichita Falls; infantry, Russell M. Dunn, Palestine; J. T. Cook, Burkburnett; Chas. E. Davis, Gorman, and J. Earle Kuntz, Iowa Park.

HAGGARD BEGINS FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

Haggard said that on his way into Wichita Falls from Graham that he had had some car trouble and that he changed from his good clothes to a corduroy suit that he always carried with him

When he took off his coat he said the contents of the pocket fell on the seat His explanation of the note and the holes in the clothes was that some practical joker had found his car in front of the house and taken a joy ride. He said that he was informed that the radiator was warm when found Saturday morning.

He believes that after the party or parties had taken a joy ride that they had taken the .22 rifle that was in the car and shot the holes in his clothes and then written the note. He states that he believes that the parties thought that he was at home and that the joke would merely be between them and get no farther.

When asked about the hole in his identification card case, he stated that over a week ago he had thrown his coat over the barrel of the gun while fixing a blowout and that while he was engaged in this work that the gun was accidentally discharged and that the bullet penetrated the card case.

He knew nothing about the hole found in the top of the car and about the broken wind shield, stating that when he left the car standing in front of his house early Saturday morning that the wind shield was intact.

Haggard's return home ended a sensational hunt for his body which was instituted by officers from Wichita and Young counties. Although the officers at all times believed that the man was still alive, the possibility of his murder as expressed in the note found with his clothes pushed officials onward with detemination to find clues that would bring the offenders to justice.

Upon arriving at Ellasvile Saturday evening at 6.45 o'clock, the Wichita county officers, accompanied by Sheriff Robert Saye of Young county and three deputies, immediately went to the hills north of the town and searched several ravines and small caves. The search was given up after an hour on account of darkness.

Haggard's car had been driven to the Young county oil town by Chief of Detectives Boyd and J. L. Luna, who is said to be a partner of Haggard in some of his oil dealings. Officers there made a thorough search of the car

A .22 rifle, which Mr. Luna said Haggard carried with him in the automobile all the time, was found in the front seat. There was a bullet hole through the top of the car directly above the front seat. There was also a hole in the wind shield in front of the steering wheel.

Searching of the hills and ravines was reinstituted Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. At 10 o'clock Mr. Boyd and Mr Luna appeared and stated that they had just talked to Haggard over the telephone and that he was safely at home.

Capture Choc Beer.

On the road between Lake City and Ellasville Saturday night Ranger McCormick, Sheriff Saye and District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones arrested a man driving a Ford truck. A ten-gallon keg of choc beer was found concealed under some clothing in the truck. He was taken to Graham and lodged in the county jail.

Those who made the trip from Wichita Falls included Sheriff Fred Smith, Deputy E. E. Hall, Rangers McCormick and Weaver and District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones.

ALLIES DECIDE TO INVADE GERMANY

Von Simons at midnight. Von Simons said he had authority to accept it, but would defer his answer until the noon meeting was called.

GERMAN DELEGATION HAS SUBMITTED NEW PROPOSALS

LONDON, March 7.—New proposals were submitted to the supreme allied council here this morning before the reparations conference opened today's meeting. The general conference met at noon.

Dr. Walter Simons, head of the German delegation, told the allies the Germans rejected the proposals formulated at Paris, and had decided to revert to the idea of a provisional arrangement that they had prepared. This would call for the payment of fixed annuities for the first five years and would give the equivalent of the 12 per cent tax on German export.

It was unofficially reported here at 12 45 o'clock that the allies had decided to inform the Germans that penalties would be applied. These penalties were outlined to the Germans by Premier Lloyd George last Thursday.

The German proposition was made conditional upon the plebiscite to be held in Upper Silesia being decided in favor of Germany and upon the removal of all commercial restrictions.

"If we have to make proposals covering the total reparations we will have to ask for a week's adjournment to consult Berlin," said Dr. Simons in making his proposition.

Shortly after 1:00 o'clock, the British representatives were leaving the conference. The situation seemed very serious, as it did not look as if an agreement was being reached.

Germany's Appeal Deliberate Effort To Confuse Issue

By J W. T MASON.
Written for the United Press.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Germany's appeal to the League of Nations against the allies' war indemnity is a deliberate effort to create confusion among the entente nations so that the Germans can fish in troubled waters.

There is grave danger that Germany has misjudged allied opinion. The French military machine may be tantalized beyond endurance by the insolences of German statesmanship. If that happens the German people will be terribly punished before reason returns.

The prime fact in the case is that Germany is helpless before the allies' military power. If Germany had won the war and if the allies had flaunted Germany as the Garmans are flaunting the allies, Lloyd George and Briand might have been stood before a firing squad.

Germany's appeal to the League of Nations is meaningless

CARDINALS GATHER FOR THE SECRET CONSISTORY

ROME, March 7—Cardinals of the Catholic church gathered at the Vatican this morning for the secret consistory at which Pope Benedict announced the names of six new members of the sacred college.

The names submitted to the cardinals were those of Monsignori Dennis J. Dougherty, Arch-Bishop of Pha; Juan Benlloch Y Vivo, Arch-Bishop of Burgos; Francisco Y. Barraquer, Arch-Bishop of Tarragona; Francisco Ragonei, Papal Nunci in Madrid; Josef Schulte, Arch-Bishop of Cologne, and Michael Von Faulhaber, Arch-Bishop of Munich.

Long before 9 o'clock, the hour fixed for the assembly of the cardinals, the piassi of St Peters was crowded by citizens of Rome and visitors who came to see the brilliant procession of papal princes to the Vatican throne room.

Slow and stately progress was made by the prelates to the court of Domasco. In a few minutes the Pope appeared. He led the cardinals into the throne room, and all but members of the sacred college withdrew to allow the cardinals to carry out the historic proceeding of naming the men who would receive the red hat, symbolic of the wearer's elevation to the supreme governing body of the church.

Formal presentation of the insignia of office to the new cardinals will take place on Tuesday, a ceremony much more elaborate than today's.

The treaty provides for payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia in five yearly installments for territory taken in connection with the Panama canal.

The committee also reported a treaty with Great Britain applying to Canada extraditions, reciprocally of husbands or wives who desert their children. The treaty, applying then only to wife deserters, was rejected last session.

SOCIALISTS TO PICKET THE WHITE HOUSE IN THE INTEREST OF DEBS

BOSTON, MASS, March 7. — The white house will be picketed by socialists in the amnesty campaign of Eugene V. Debs and others whom they designate as "political prisoners." Announcement of a vote to this effect at a special session of the party's national executive committee here yesterday was followed today by decision to continue to sessions in New York tomorrow so that plans for the campaign may be considered in conference with Mrs. Harriett Stanton Blatch, who will head the socialist lobby at Washington.

William Fiegenbaum of Chicago, speaking for the committee, said no conflict with the authorities in carrying out the picketing plans was expected as it was understood the Washington police did not interfere in "peaceful picketing"

"We will try not to break into jail, but we will go to prison if necessary to emphasize the fact that Debs and others still in jail should be released," he added

MAJOR GENERAL WOOD IS DETAILED TO VISIT PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, March 7 — Major General Leonard Wood has been detailed at the request of President Harding to go to the Philippine Island and make a study of conditions there in the light of Philippine aspirations for independence.

The mission was formerly entrusted to General Wood at a conference today between him and the president, at which Secretary Weeks of the war department also was present. It was decided that such a plan would be preferable to Mr Harding's original plan to make the general governor of the islands.

Lawson said that while he and his wife were in Kansas he expressed a desire to return to Little Rock and wait for her there, but that she threatened him.

Lawson quoted her as saying at that time that the only way he would ever go home would be in what she referred to as a "wooden overcoat."

NOMINATIONS HELD UP AFTER BEING CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The senate today held up nominations of two of President Harding's appointees after once confirming them and sent them to committee for a report.

These were the nominations of Theodore Roosevelt, to be assistant secretary of the navy, and Elmer D. Ball, to be assistant secretary of agriculture. These appointments had been confirmed when some senators who were absent at the time requested that they be referred to committees. This was done with the idea that the committees will report tomorrow. These are the first Harding appointments to be delayed.

Democratic senators including King, Utah, indicated their intention of opposing Roosevelt's confirmation.

FIND THAT ELECTRA VOTED FOR HOSPITAL

Bond Issue Majority 262—Building Committee Named—Commissioners in Session.

A canvass of the votes on the $75,000 hospital bond issue by the county commissioners Monday afternoon showed that the issue had carried by a majority of 262. This was a larger majority than reported on February 18, the date of the election. At that time it was reported that Electra had voted decidedly against the issue, but the canvass showed the opposite.

The total was 416 for and 148 against the issue. The vote by boxes was:

	For	Against
Electra	100	13
Allendale	4	4
Box No. 13	55	19
Box No. 13	198	41
Iowa Park	17	48
Burkburnett	41	23

The commissioners appointed a tentative building committee for the new addition to the hospital. The committee is composed of Drs. M. M. Walker and J. E. Daniels of this city; Dr. S. E Kramer of Electra; Dr. H. F. Shepherd of Burkburnett, and Dr. Joe Frank Clark of Iowa Park.

Louis Jernigan, the present superintendent, was given a contract for another term to continue in charge of the county buildings. He agreed to remain under that contract, although he stated at a former occasion that he intended to move to his farm in Arkansas.

A contract for the furnishing of gasoline and oil for use on the Iowa Park road contract was let to Doc Overby of Electra, who agreed to furnish the county with gasoline and oil at five cents per gallon below the wagon price. He also agreed to install an underground tank along the road for the storage of gasoline.

FINDS CONDITIONS HERE BETTER THAN ELSEWHERE, SAYS C. W. REID ON RETURN

Conditions in Wichita Falls are better than in most sections of the country, according to C. W. Reid, active vice-president of the City National Bank of Commerce, who returned late last week from a business trip that included New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

"I learned that the banks here are in better shape than those in most places," Mr. Reid said "However, conditions generally are showing much improvement, and there is a much more satisfactory tone in the business world. There is general satisfaction with the cabinet selections for the new administration. I talked with a representative of one of the big cotton mill companies and he told me they were booked at full time until the first of May, with new orders coming in steadily."

NIGHT SCHOOL HAS ENROLLMENT OF 100, MANY FOREIGNERS

STUDENTS INCLUDE BOTH SEXES AND MANY NATIONALITIES, REPORT SHOWS.

SPANISH AND COMMERCIAL CLASSES MOST POPULAR

Special Attention Given Students Of Foreign Birth Who Want To Become Naturalized.

An even one hundred men and women are enrolled in the public night school being conducted under the supervision of the local school board, according to a statement made Monday by Principal A K Presson. This number, it is said, represents practically all classes and nationalities in the city and is about evenly divided among men and women

The class for foreigners and those of the Spanish and commercial departments are proving the most popular, according to Mr Presson, who states that an average of 13 or 14 students show up at each recitation time for the instruction given in the foreigners' class None of the students at the first of the year could speak English, and but very few of them had the slightest conception of any American principles and ideas

Instruction which prepares the student sufficiently to take out naturalization papers is being given, and English is of course being taught Many of those who attend have showed a remarkable quickness in learning and are developing rapidly into useful citizens A number of the foreigners, before coming to this country, had studied in European universities and were by no means devoid of education

One European who applied for admittance recently spoke five languages and was well versed in sciences and the professions, but desired further tutoring in English and American citizenship

The growth of the school has been extremely gratifying to those responsible for its welfare and plans are already being made for a considerable enlargement next year It has been pointed out that Fort Worth, with a school five years old, now has a membership of only 500, whereas the local classes already number 100 and are still growing The school here was organized only last fall

SOME DAY THESE BOYS WILL LEARN IT'S NO USE ARGUING WITH WOMEN

A number of young ladies at the local high school are not speaking to their gentlemen friends these days, and after Thursday night the favors are likely to be returned

This deplorable state of affairs has been brought about by action of the boys' and girls' club at the institution, the two organizations having recently arranged to inform each other, in public, of their respective shortcomings At the weekly meeting of the Girls' club held last Thursday night, the program was presented by members of the Boys' club and was featured by an address by Cornelius Chewning, wherein he assailed the habits and customs of the feminine element of school and made frank criticism of some practices of the girls

According to members of the high school faculty, the talk was a wonder from first to last and succeeded in enlightening members of the fair sex to a considerable degree The talk, although given by Mr Chewning, represented the sentiments of the Boys' club as a whole and received their hearty endorsement

And now the girls are waiting for next Thursday to roll around so that they can return the compliments with interest Guendolin Walters, orator supreme of the Girls' club, has been selected as the standard bearer, and will return an adverse criticism when the boys meet Incidentally a number of other events will be presented by members of the Girls club, but the address by Miss Walters will easily be the main attraction

Hints of terrible retribution have been thrown out, and rumor has it that the undue hilarity of the high school's masculine portion is scheduled for a rapid descent when the smoke has cleared away next Thursday

ATWOOD TESTIFIES IN MATEWAN TRIAL

Says Fighting Was Opened By a Signal From Albert Felts, Leader Of Detectives.

By J F BEAMAN,
United Press Staff Correspondent

Williamson, W VA, March 7—When the Sid Hatfield trial opened here today N H Atwood, who sat in defendants row when the trial began, testified adding his eye witness account of the May gun fight to evidence favoring the 17 men still charged with the murder of seven Baldwin-Felts detectives

The indictment against Atwood was nolled by the state when evidence taking began three weeks ago

The fatal fight was opened by a signal from Albert Felts, leader of the detectives Atwood charged today

Standing within three feet of where the revolver war was opened, Atwood saw Felts fire the first shot, fatally wounding Mayor C C Testerman, according to his testimony

'Felts raised up on his toes gave a little nod to his men and about the time he came back down on his heels he shot Testerman from his right side" the witness said The mayor grabbed his sides and fell and Felts swung his revolver around and fired into a small group of citizens nearby, the eye witness testified.

UPHOLD DECISION BARRING BERGER'S PAPER FROM MAIL

WASHINGTON, March 7 — Refusal of lower courts to issue a mandamus requiring Postmaster General Burleson to restore second class mail privileges of the Milwaukee Leader, Victor Berger's newspaper, was sustained today by the supreme court

The second class mailing privileges of the Leader were withdrawn by Mr Burleson in 1917 on the ground that articles published by the Leader regarding the purposes of the United States on entering the war were calculated to interfere with the military operations and were in vain of the espionage act

The District of Columbia supreme court dismissed the suit brought by the Leader

The opinion cited numerous excerpts from articles submitted by the government as showing the Leader s anti-American policy and the court condemned these in measured terms as "false and tending to disloyalty"

The case was brought on the apparent theory, the court said, that this government, competent to fight a foreign enemy," is helpless to fight "an insidious enemy at home' The opinion of the court was delivered by Associate Justice Clark

Justice Brandeis delivered a dissenting opinion

The question is not one of a war power or a statute or of a fact incident to war, Mr. Brandeis said, but is only whether the postmaster general had the power he exercised Neither the act establishing the postal service nor any other of the basic statutes mentioned any such condition as that imposed by Mr Burleson, Mr Brandeis said

Mr Brandeis contended that any issue of the Leader violating the law could be barred, but that there was no power existing to bar a publication indefinitely

'This would be an absolute censorship ' he said

Associate Justice Holmes concurred 'in the substance of Mr Brandeis opinion

The right of free speech is almost as inherent as the right to use our tongues, Mr Holmes declared

PRESIDENT HARDING TO DISCUSS PROGRAM AT DINNER TONIGHT

INVITATION IS EXTENDED TO REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS.

FIRST CABINET MEETING IS CALLED FOR TUESDAY

Panama Trouble And Questions Of a General Character Will Be Considered.

WASHINGTON, March 7—Legislative policies of the new administration will be discussed by President Harding with republican congressional leaders at a dinner tonight at the White House Tomorrow the president will preside at the first meeting of his cabinet The call went out today and the hour was fixed at 11 00 a m

It was said the cabinet session would take up in particular the question of relations with Costa Rica and Panama and the program for the special session of congress Information and advice received at the dinner tonight is expected to be laid before the cabinet by Mr Harding and a definite decision on a date for calling congress into session may follow

No definite schedule of cabinet meetings has yet been agreed upon In the Wilson administration they were held ordinarily on Tuesday but the impression is that Mr Harding may desire to have a round table discussion with his advisers more often than once a week

The date of the special session of congress was discussed today with Senator Underwood of Alabama, democratic leader of senate, who is understood to have urged a call for the first half of April

HIRAM JOHNSON INCLUDED AMONG THE "BEST MINDS"

WASHINGTON, March 7—For the first time since his nomination, President Harding today included Senator Hiram Johnson of California among the best minds' who are to help him shape the course of his administration

Johnson was one of a score of senators and congressmen invited to confer with Harding at a dinner at the white house tonight

Following the congressional conference the first cabinet meeting of the Harding administration will be held tomorrow at 11 a m and Vice President Coolidge will be asked to attend

The conference with congressmen probably will result in tentative decisions on the most pressing matters confronting Harding, and these decisions will be discussed and in most cases probably confirmed by the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

The date for the special session of congress taxation and government expenditures, the military and naval situations in light of failure of both the army and navy appropriation bills the project of making peace with Germany and general procedure of the next session of congress were understood to be matters likely to be taken up at the conference

Senator Poindexter and Representative Kelly who managed the naval appropriation bill, Senator Penrose chairman of the senate finance commission and Representative Fordney chairman, and Representative Longworth, Ohio member of the house ways and means committee, were among the guests

With Lodge, who is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee there will be Representative Porter chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, and Senator Knox The presence of these three men means tha tthe question of delaying passage of the Knox resolution, declaring peace with Germany, because of Germany's present differences with the allies over reparations, will come up

Among other important conferences today Harding had one with Elmer Dover of Tacoma, who has just returned from Mexico Dover is understood to favor immediate recognition of the Obregon government He also is mentioned for national republican chairman

Secretary Hughes was the first cabinet member to call at the white house today It was believed he came to report the latest developments on the ultimatum to Panama and Costa Rica to cease hostilities

PRESIDENT REACHES OFFICE AHEAD OF CLERICAL FORCE

WASHINGTON March 7—President Harding began his second work day in the White House by beating his entire force of secretaries and clerks to the executive offices He arrived shortly after 8 30 o'clock a full half hour before work usually begins and for some time was the only official present in that end of the White House

As soon as the president had settled himself at his desk he called for his new Airedale dog Laddie Boy who was assigned a place for the day on a couch in the president's office

STATE AUTHORITIES PLAN TO CLEAN UP NIGHT RIDER BANDS

SCOTTSBORO, ALA, March 7—State authorities were preparing to clean up the supposed headquarters district near here of the nightrider bands which have been terrorizing northern Alabama communities Announcement that they intended to organize a posse for the purpose was made by officers who took part in a street battle at Stevenson, near here, yesterday, following an attempt by fifteen members of the Farmer Tenants union to release four members of the union held in jail there The men were arrested when their night riding expedition was intercepted by Deputy Sheriff Stevens of Stevenson

The unionists who made the assault on the jail and opened fire on the guards were met by the citizens, who had been armed, and all but five, who were captured and placed under arrest, were put to flight They came from the Fabius settlement, supposed headquarters of the night riders, and officers announced that they would organize a posse today to invade the district.

Confesses Staging A Fake Holdup to Collect Insurance

CHICAGO, March 7—Frederick Kantoff today confessed staging a fake fold up in which his father was shot in order to collect burglary and holdup insurance The youth admitted doing the shooting The father was seriously wounded Duty of providing a living for the family of nine had proven irksome to the elder Kantoff, especially in these days of unemployment and slack business at the little delicatessen store, he said.

The father and son were entering their home at 1:00 a. m today after closing the delicatessen when the policeman on the beat heard a shot He found the father wounded and the son telling of an attack by two men who fired the shot and escaped with $340—the day's receipts at the store

Finding of the revolver and the fact that no men were seen running from the place aroused police suspicions Under examination Frederick broke down and told the story of how the "hold-up" was planned to collect insurance

Of 3,800 Singers Only 22 Sing Pure Notes—Edison

In a recent interview Thomas A. Edison had the following to say regarding the imperfections of the human voice:

"I have collected, through my agents in Europe and America, phonographic voice trials by approximately 3800 singers. Of these, there are but 22 who sing pure notes, without extraneous sounds and the almost universal tremolo effect. A singer's trill is quite a different thing from a tremolo. A trill can be and is controlled by the brain, but a tremolo is not within brain control and, so far, there has been no means found for correcting it. Most singers cannot sustain a note without breaking it up into a series of chatterings, or tremolos. The number of waves varies from two per second to as high as twelve. When at the latter rate, the chatter can just be heard and is not particularly objectionable. When at a slower rate, it is very objectionable.

"The object of an inventor, attempting to produce a phonograph, should achieve the highest possible degree of realism. That has constantly been my goal, and, as is now well known, we have succeeded to such a point where our phonograph reproduces, or recreates the human voice and other forms of music, with such fidelity to the original that the most sensitive ears are unable to distinguish any difference. Our success in registering and emiting every quality of the human voice has revealed some remarkable facts."

The realism of the NEW EDISON is so perfect that this wonderful instrument brings the full benefits of music into every home.

ALL THE NEWS OF ALL THE SPORTS ALL THE TIME

Appearance of Frank And Ray Kitchens Only Thing New in the Spudder Camp

The arrival of Frank Kitchens and his brother Ray from Orange was the only change in the case of Walter Salm and his Spudders yesterday These were the only two arrivals in camp, no word concerning the trio of holdouts was received and there was nothing sensational in the single workout which Salm ordered for his troupe

The morning session was called off on account of Sunday, but hereafter the men will work out twice daily—at 10 o'clock and at 2 o clock

The drill yesterday afternoon was witnessed by about 200 fans and was longer than on the days when a morning session is held. The day was ideal for training with little or no breeze and not a cloud to deaden the sun s rays

Thirteen in Uniform.

Thirteen men in uniform cut loose with something that resembled speed yesterday and there were very few arched throws when the afternoon's work was drawing to a close Walter worked around the initial corner for a while himself and had quite a bit of difficulty in getting the pill to third, but the rest of the squad tore loose.

Neither Kitchens nor his brother donned a uniform as they had just left the rattler before coming to the park They took in the game in Houston Saturday between the Cards and Athletics and then jumped here Frank claims he is in good condition though he has not touched a ball since last season, but brother Ray is suffering from a couple of wicked looking boils on his right ear He had them lanced Saturday and expects to be out with the juveniles soon, however.

The first part of the afternoon was devoted to the first real batting practice thus far Bob Crow, a young hurler from Devol Okla, served 'em up for a while for the boys to take a blow, but there weren't many solid whacks uncorked In fact the most solid smashes were garnered by Walter himself Babe Ruth connected for one nice blow but nobody knocked any into the adjacent meadows Jake Miller indulged in the batting drill, but confined the rest of his work to getting his wind in trim

Local Infield

Following the hitting bee, an infield was formed and Walter kept the men busy knocking down his drives Comstock was on first Bob Trotter at short, Shagg at second and Winfrey and Brooks at first The last quartet belong in Wichita Falls

Ruth belted a few to the outfield, composed mainly of 'Red Smith and finally gave way to Walter who tried a bit of distance hitting

After about two hours' work Boss Walter called it a day and sent the men around the field at a dog trot Ruth and Fawcett lingered a while and the former shot a few fast ones over the plate for the benefit of the onlookers

Salm expects to start wielding the axe within the next couple of days Of those who were out in uniform yesterday the only men under contract are Miller, Sylvester, the big backstop from Electra Fawcett and Ruth The signed men are expected to report in time for tomorrow afternoon s drill and some of the boys will have to look to other fields

HE HAS THE GOODS

—By Wood Cowan

Bob Martin has been boxing professionally less than two years He has fought his way up through the heavyweight division although only 22 years of age

It is true that Bill Brennan won a 15-round decision over Bob at Madison Square Garden recently but the point we want to bring out is that Martin is a comer Brennan has been fighting eight years and it was his ring generalship that won him the fight His margin of superiority was mighty small

The A E F champion proved himself a boxer of sterling worth and possessed of great possibilities Game, with a fine build, standing 6 feet 2 inches and weighing 185 a good right fast and intelligent and a clever and hard hitter—his one outstanding weakness is a very poor left hand Bob' had better try the Jack Dempsey stunt of tieing his right hand behind him and boxing with his left

He has a fine fighting spirit His style is good He boxes in a crouched position He never takes a back step He plants himself solidly sending his right in pivoting from the waist

He is certainly the best present-time prospect amongst the heavyweight class He has everything a great fighter should have except experience and with careful handling in time—well who can tell, but wouldn t it be great to have a man with Martin's war record as heavyweight champion of the world?

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright 1920 New York Tribune Inc)

IN REVISED FORM.

In the spring a young man s fancy,
(As the saying often goes)
Doesn t always turn to Nancy,
Ethel, Katherine or Rose

While a few are doubtless choosing
Orchids for some dark-eyed vamp,
I ve seen more than one perusing
Gossip from the training camp

The football coach nineteen times out of twenty, is a factor for great good outside of his ability to teach the young idea how to punt, block and tackle His main weakness has been a persistency in running his team from the field regardless of the rules If he doesn t on the average, direct the play by signs he will by rushing in a substitute with instructions at some critical moment This is not only in direct violation of the rules but in addition undermines the confidence and development of the field general running the team

A FEW REMEDIES

There are only two remedies for this evil in sight One is for the coaches to abandon the practice The other is to keep them off the field

The coach s duty should end the minute the whistle blows From that point on to the end of the game the handling of the team should belong exclusively to the captain

On the field it should be team vs team not coach vs coach If the rules committee can t break up this evil any other way it can at least make sideline coaching extremely intricate by keeping every member of the coaching staff out of range

YOUNG PHENOMS.

'Vincent Richards may win a championship but these young phenoms rarely pan out ' a contemporary remarks

On the contrary we should say they pan out very well Ty Cobb was a nineteen year old star Quimet was a miracle performer at twenty Chick Evans at fifteen was a schoolboy sensation and Jerry Travers at fifteen was swapping shots with Walter J Travis then American champion

They have all done fairly well since after annexing the experience needed to steady their various efforts

Another young phenom was Willie Hoppe Willie was a kid wonder and if he hasn't panned out we don t know any one else who has

Alexa Stirling was a very young phenom a star at fourteen, who has since won three championships And Bobby Jones a sensation at the age of twelve has since gone to the final and the semi final round of two amateur championships

NOT ALWAYS IN A HURRY

These young wonders don t always arrive in a hurry Chick Evans went to the semi-final round of an amateur championship when he was only fifteen But he had to wait seven years before he ever reached the top

Vincent Richards still has a great chance to be a future champion Time will add weight stamina experience and better judgment to what he already has He is now working hard to build up his physical resources, and by the time Tilden or Johnston is ready to slip young Richards should be ready to step into the gap

Still another young phenom who might be mentioned is Georges Carpentier, something of a sensation before he was sixteen And while he hasn t reached the top yet in a world-wide way we should at least say that he had panned out with fair success as such things go

L F G—Walter Johnson is thirty four Eddie Collins is thirty four and Ty Cobb is thirty five Speaker is thirty three the youngest of the four although he and Collins entered the American League as regulars the same year

MISSING AN OPENING

Why the amazing scarcity of tennis professionals? Tennis clubs all over the country are putting out dragnets to get a first class pro, without success, all due to the fact that very few have ever gone into professional tennis

Pros in every other sport are thick enough but tennis is the big exception Which means that a new opening to make an honest healthy and remunerative living is at hand

Walter Johnson after his mid-season cave in last summer is making a heroic effort to be properly adjusted this impending season The Washington star was one of the first to start south He will take few chances with his arm until hot weather comes and when the season opens he will no longer attempt to pitch forty or forty five games But with a number of lusty run-getters around him he should still be good for twenty victories and at least two more years For Johnson happens to have the easiest pitching motion in the game an important factor when it comes to a matter involving length of servitude

McGraw's Pennant Hopes Once Again Start Glimmering

By HENRY L FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 7 —Another pennant seems slipping from the grasp of John J. McGraw.

Some bad luck combined with the weak infield malady that made the Giants run second last season is smearing lamp black over the hopes of Gotham for the coming season

Charles Stoneham, millionaire boss of the cclub, is willing to pay almost his pile for a pennant, and McGraw coming close to the end of his string wants to win another pennant, break the tie with Connie Mack, and retire as the manager of seven pennant winning teams

The Giants were generally regarded as the favorites for the 1921 race until—

Heinie Zimmerman started talking and Dave Bancroft developed heart trouble

Zimmercan cast suspicions on Rube Benton, Fred Toney and Bennie Kauff There is also something to be cleared up about the Benton-Herzog case

Even in New York where the fans are willing to go to any length to discredit Zimmerman s tale, there is a lot of sentiment that the three Giants should be suspended until they are found innocent

SPUDDERS PURCHASE TEX M'DONALD FROM LOS ANGELES CLUB

SLUGGING OUTFIELDER MAY BE USED IN PLACE OF "RED" JOSEFSON.

NEW FIRST BASEMAN MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION MONDAY

Nelson Makes First Appearance In Uniform And Looks Good To Salm.

Walter Salm announced the purchase of Tex McDonald from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific coast league Monday McDonald plays either the outfield or infield, but judging from the way the land lies at present he will be used in the outfield

The Spudder boss intends to fool with "Red" Josefson no longer. To date 'Red" has failed to come to terms and he will have to show a little speed if he hopes to wear a Spudder uniform this season.

However, he would never be missed with McDonald in right. Tex is one of the greatest minor league ball players in the game today He played third base regularly for the Angels last year until he broke his leg in mid-season. He has now fully recovered from the injury and told Salm that he would report here within the next few days At present he is in Montgomery, Ala

With Nashville in 1919.

He was with the Nashville club in the Southern association in 1919 and walloped the apple for an average of .324 in 129 games This same year he poked out 26 doubles, six triples and eight circuit clouts.

Old Texas league fans will remember Tex as he was in the circuit several years ago, playing the infield the majority of the time

Dick Nelson made his first appearance in uniform in Monday morning's workout and if the boy can hit and field in proportion to his size he'll be a world beater He stands well over six feet and tips the scales in the neighborhood of a couple of hundred pounds. He claims he is a few pounds overweight now but that he will have little difficulty in getting rid of his superfluous burden.

Salm's face was wreathed in smiles as he watched Dick put the ash to the leather He hit 'em far and wide and taking everything into consideration his first impression was all to the merry

White Uniforms Too Small.

He was issued a blue uniform, despite the fact that he is still termed a "rookie," but Walter didn't have any white ones that were big enough for him. The fans won't have much difficulty in picking him out All they'll have to do is pick out the biggest man on the field and they'll have Dick spotted

Frank Kitchens and his brother Ray donned their working togs and the former's eye has not been dimmed by his winter layoff. He pasted them as of yore and ran the boys in the outfield ragged

Jake Miller hit them harder than he has thus far and is gradually rounding into shape

All the flingers were given a chance to serve 'em up except Ruth Babe is the only yet in the pitching staff who has yet reported and he was appointed as a sort of boss over the others by Salm.

The squad was increased to about twenty in the morning workout and more were expected to show up this afternoon

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Better Liverpool cables than expected were followed by an opening advance of five to 20 points in the cotton market here today There was scattered southern and New Orleans selling at the initial advance but Liverpool was good buyers while there was considerable local support and active months soon showed net advances of 32 to 44 points on more optimistic reports concerning the London conference. Private cables were said to be in the market, stating that the Germans had agreed to the allied terms subject to a revision in five years and also wanted a loan. Early cables attributed the advance in Liverpool to the more hopeful view of a reparation settlement and reports of smaller offerings from the south. The advances here carried May up to 12.04 and July to 12.46 before the end of the first hour.

No confirmation of the rumored German acceptance of reparation terms was received and the market was irregular later with prices showing reactions of 10 or 20 points, from the best Not much southern selling was reported on the early rally which extended to 12.11 for May and 12.50 for July but there was scattered realizing and business was quiet around midday with traders awaiting for more definite London advices. Reports received here from the eastern belt said there was less pressure of distressed cotton and that similar advices were being received from the southwest.

The market was easier during the early afternoon under scattered liquidation by buyers who were evidently disappointed by the continued absence of definite reports from London conference May sold to 11 77 and July to 12 20, or about 25 to 30 points from the best

The advance continued until it amounted to 43 to 61 points with May up to 11 78 A less comfortable view then began to prevail regarding the courts of international negotiations at London and prices fell ofwf somewhat. At 11 00 o'clock the more active positions were at net advances of 31 to 32 points

In the afternoon the market softened further under a constant stream of unfavorable news from Europe and at 1 30 o'clock stood one to five points over Saturday's last quotations with May down to 11 31 London cables saying that a meeting of the British cabinet had been called for tonight made an unfavorable impression and caused much selling

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Rains southwest, especially in Kansas, where there was particular need of moisture, led better prices today for wheat. County offerings, however, remained light and European political news was disturbing to the bears Opening prices ranged from ¼ to 1¼ cents lower with March 1 79 and May 1.51 to 1.51½ were followed by moderate further setbacks and then by upturns to somewhat above the range at the start.

Word that the allies would inflict penalties on Germany failed to lift prices Instead, proposed military action on the part of the allies was given a bearish construction by numerous traders in the late dealings The close was heavy, 2½ to 3¼ cents net lower, with March $1 67½ and May $1 69 to $1 69½.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. After opening unchanged to half cent lower, including May at 71@71¼c, the market sagged a little further and then rallied.

In the last part of the day, corn eased off when wheat turned downward. The close was unsettled, ¼c to ½c net lower, with May 70⅞c to 71c.

Oats started a shade to quarter cent off, May 46, and weakened a trifle more previous to taking the upgrade

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Trading on the stock exchange at the outset of today's session pointed to a continuance of last week's listless and irregular market, but dealings became more active and the undertone strengthened to a pronounced extent within the first half hour. Oils, steels and motors were the objects of bullish attention, Atlantic Gulf, Royal Dutch, Mexican Petroleum rising 12 to 12½ points. Baldwin Locomotive, Bethlehem Steel, steel foundries, Chandler, Studebaker and Otis Elevator comprised the other firm to strong issues. Exchange on Lodon was moderately higher, despite adverse cables from that center regarding the course of the reparations conference.

Lackawana Steel, General Electric, Westinghouse and the various motor specialties were fairly active at moderate advances during the mid-session. Offerings of rails, oils and shippings, particularly Reading, Mexican Petroleum, Asphalt and United Fruit soon resulted in reactsions of one to two points from highest prices.

A. C. BILLMAN, of Indiana, who says Tanlac is unquestionably the greatest medicine he ever heard of. "It put me back on my feet after I had practically given up all hope of ever being well again," he states.

"Tanlac is unquestionably the greatest medicine I ever heard of. After I had practically given up all hope of ever being well again, it put me right back on my feet, and I am feeling one hundred per cent better than I have for twenty years. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and everyone says I don't look like the same person.

"For several months I suffered from a serious stomach disorder. I had no appetite and couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength Very often when I sat down to a meal I would leave the table without touching anything scarcely, as I could not bear the sight of food, much less eat it.

"I was losing in weight and my friends would often ask me 'What is wrong with you' Why are you looking so thin?

"I also suffered terribly with pains across the small of my back and over my kidneys It was almost impossible for me to get out of bed in the morning, as my back would pain me so I would almost fall over when I would first stand up in the morning. At night my back pained me so it was almost impossible for me to sleep. I would lie first on one side and then on the other, and would roll and toss all night long. I had almost given up and thought maybe my age was against me, as I had taken so many different kinds of medicine without results.

"The first bottle of Tanlac didn't help me much, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. After starting on the second bottle I began to feel better. My appetite returned and it just looked like I could hardly wait for meal time to come. In fact, I was hungry all the time.

"My back and kidneys don't bother me any more and I can sleep like a log now. Tanlac has just simply made a new man of me, and anyone living in this county can tell you the same thing, as everybody knows me and knows the shape I was in."

The above statement was made recently by A. C. Billman, of Ligonier, Ind. Mr. Billman has lived in Noble county all his life and is a well-known and highly-respected citizen of that county.

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Company and in Electra by Tarleton Drug Store and by all leading druggists.—(Adv.)

WOUND INFLICTED BY OFFICER FATAL TO MAN AT BURKBURNETT

A man known as Jimmie Smith of Bridgetown died in the Martin hospital at Burkburnett Sunday afternoon as the result of a wound sustained when he was shot by Deputy Constable L. S. Brannon Saturday night. It is stated that Smith endeavored to make his escape after he had been arrested, when the officer shot him.

Immediatly upon information that the man had died Brannon was charged with murder, but was released after perfecting bond.

According to the story told, Brannon and Constable Shad Lane were in Bridgetown Saturday night when Smith and another man got into a fight. The arrest followed, and when the man was endeavoring to get away the officer fired.

The bullet entered the left side of the back and was removed from the abdomen. The injured man was rushed to the hospital at Burkburnett, where he died.

MELLON'S APPOINTMENT IS VIEWED WITH FAVOR BY LOCAL OIL OPERATORS

The belief that the appointment of Andrew W. Mellon of Pittsburgh as secretary of the treasury will bring relief to oil men on income tax matters is expressed by several local operators. Mr. Mellon, who owns a large majority of the Gulf company's stock, is experienced in the oil business, and, knowing the problems and intricacies of that industry, will, it is thought, be reasonable in such rulings as affect income taxes and oil.

Local oil men point out that a large part of their income tax troubles are due to the treasury department rulings rather than to the law itself, and these rulings have been unfavorable to the oil men in almost every instance. With an experienced oil man at the head of the treasury department, they are hopeful for more consideration than they feel has been shown them in the past.

Mr. Mellon has visited Wichita Falls on several occasions, looking after the interests of his company in the southwest.

Mr. Mellon is not the only cabinet member in which Wichitans can feel a personal interest. Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, has several acquaintances in Wichita Falls, among them J. G. Culbertson of the Wichita Motors company, who has been associated with Mr. Hoover in the foreign trade finance corporation of which both are members.

WHEAT IS LOOKING FINE ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM FARMERS OF COUNTY

The condition of wheat in this vicinity is decidedly favorable, according to reports from a number of sources. The warm weather, following the good season which was put in the ground by rain and snow, has benefited wheat greatly, and is thought to have largely checked the depredations of the green bug, which appeared in some parts of the county a few weeks ago.

With warm weather, it is believed, the propagation of this pest is hampered, while such weather is favorable to the green bug's arch enemy, the lady bug, which combats the wheat destroyer most vigorously.

There is no immediate need for moisture, farmers say, on account of the good season already in the ground.

"ANOTHER CHANCE" IS PASSED UP BY YOUTH, FACES LONG TERM

W. H. Hill, a young man who was given a five-year suspended sentence in the 30th district court last fall on the charge of theft over $50, was returned to the county jail here Sunday following his arrest and conviction at Vernon.

He was found guilty there of the charge of burglary and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. Deputy Sheriff Dakan brought the young man back here, where he will be sentenced to serve the five years assessed by a jury.

It is stated that officers from another county will come for him in a few days, as he is wanted there on a felony charge.

JOY RIDERS DRIVE CAR OFF BRIDGE NEAR LAKE, MAY HAVE BEEN INJURED

Grief overtook the joyriders who Saturday night took the Cole car of E. E. Pryor from near the corner of Ninth and Scott. Sunday morning the machine was found in a slough back of the insane asylum buildings on the south lake road. It had evidently plunged off the wooden bridge when its driver failed to successfully negotiate the turn in the road there.

The car was overturned in about two feet of water and it was thought at first that some of the occupants had been killed, but no evidence of this could be found. Footprints in the vicinity indicated that three people, one of them a woman, had been in the car.

With considerable difficulty the car was righted and pulled back onto the road. It was badly damaged, but not beyond possibility of repair.

Rumors of a tragedy at the scene drew many autoists to the place Sunday afternoon.

IS INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON LAKE ROAD SUNDAY

Myrtle Lay, daughter of City Patrolman B. W. Lay, was painfully injured late Sunday afternoon when an automobile in which she and a party of friends were riding ran off an embankment on the lake road and turned over. Miss Lay was cut about the back and shoulders and was also considerably bruised. She was taken to the Wichita General hospital and given medical attention.

None of the other members of the party were said to have been severely injured. A man named Parker, who was driving the car, was reported to have been slightly hurt, but he was able to go to his home without assistance.

Losing control of the machine while attempting to slow down its speed was assigned as the cause of the accident. The car was considerably damaged.

PROTESTS ARE MADE ON STORE NEAR HIGH SCHOOL

Reports that work was about to start on a store building near the high school caused vigorous protests to be filed Monday morning by school authorities and individuals residing in the neighborhood. City officials were prepared to prevent work being started until the necessary permits are obtained; such permits cannot be issued unless it is shown that those residing in the neighborhood do not object.

NEURO-OPHTHALMOLOGY
Some reasons why we are so enthusiastically in favor of the system of Ocular Therapy, known as Neuro Ophthalmology, as compared with other systems of Ophthalmology or eye care and fitting or applying glasses.
We are familiar with both the old or Orthodox system as well as the newer and more advanced system, and having had many years of experience in the application of both, we have no hesitancy in declaring that the standards of the system known as Neuro-Ophthalmology are the highest known to the science of fitting glasses, taking care of the vision, straightening crossed eyes, etc.
